VANCOUVER BANDIT GANG RAIDS CAFE

Five Armed Men Descend on Restaurant in Heart of Business District

ANOTHER ROBBERY OF STORE REPORTED

VANCOUVER, May 24. — Five armed bandits raided the Boston Cafe, West Pender Street, at 2 a.m. today and escaped with $150. Four of the men, carrying revolvers, entered the place while the fifth man remained outside at the steering wheel of a large automobile.

Under threat of the bandit guns, Gus Kaboluh, proprietor, and Miss F. Fergusson, waitress, were compelled to stand helpless while one of the men looted the cash drawer of its money. The men then backed out of the place, one of them taking a box of cigars from a showcase, leaped into the waiting car and were whisked away by the man at the wheel.

PLAN OTHER CRIMES

Police were called but were unable to locate the car or its occupants. The same car had been seen a short time previous to the robbery outside the Peter Pan Cafe, Granville Street, and it is thought that the robbery of that place had been contemplated by the gunmen.

A bandit held up C. Rodin, grocer, in his store on West Third Avenue, shortly after 10:30 p.m., Monday. He obtained $11 and escaped in an automobile, driven by a companion, which waited outside the store.

VISITOR ROBBED

According to his report to the police, B. McAuliffe, of Toronto, was robbed of $175 in a downtown rooming house. Detectives E. Munro and W. Rawlinson, who investigated the case, found $32 of the money on the floor of a room in the lodging house.

DAMAGE DONE BY WESTMINSTER FIRES

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 24.—Fire which broke out Tuesday noon at the home of George E. Martin, barrister, 49 Alberi Crescent, destroyed the roof and caused considerable damage. Fanned by the high wind, the flames spread rapidly, adding to the difficulties of the firemen.

Slight damage was done in another roof fire at the home of Frank Richardson, Twelfth Street, about an hour before the fire at Mr. Martin's home. This was extinguished in about fifteen minutes.

REPORT CONTRADICTED

LONDON, May 24.—It was officially denied today that Prince George, fourth son of the King, would be created Duke of Edinburgh on his thirtieth birthday, December 20, as published in The Daily Express yesterday.

Acts for King of Hedjaz

THE Emir Feisal, second son of the King of the Hedjaz and Nejd, is shown leaving Dorchester Hotel, London, en route to Buckingham Palace to visit His Majesty King George, as head of an official mission to Britain from his Government. The Emir Feisal is on the left of the Picture.

Firemen Battle Four Blazes of Serious Nature

Audience Cheers Motion Picture Horse Race as Firemen Quietly Extinguish Flames—Chinese Joss Sticks Believed Cause of Downtown Fire—House Badly Damaged

FOUR fires in widely separated parts of the city kept the city fire department busy yesterday. One blaze was extinguished quietly while 1,000 people cheered and shouted at a horse race being screened at a motion picture theatre.

Another fire is believed to have been started by a Chinese who was burning joss sticks and papers while praying to Asiatic fairies.

A third fire gutted the upper floor of the home of E. W. Henry, corner of Esquimalt Road and Rothwell Street, while the fourth was a bush fire at the corner of Simcoe and Douglas Streets.

BATTLE FLAMES

The first alarm turned in was for the fire at Mr. Henry's home. No one knows just how the blaze started. Fanned by a high wind, the flames licked along the roof gutters and quickly enveloped the roof. Firemen battled for nearly two hours to bring the blaze under control. Damage is estimated at nearly $1,000. No lives were endangered and no one sustained injuries.

At 11:50 a.m. a fire broke out at 517 Fisgard Street. For a time it threatened to spread to adjoining buildings, all structures in that area being of wooden partitions and heavy wood doors.

Firemen were compelled to use their smoke masks to battle this blaze, but after an hour and a half of fighting they brought it under control.

Sento June, Chinese, was taken to the police station for mental exam-

Morenz Is Hammered By Bandit

MONTREAL, May 24.—Unseasonable bandages tonight were wrapped around the head of Howie Morenz, meteoric centre of Montreal Canadiens, of the National Hockey League. Howie was cut and bruised early today when a gunman brought the butt of his revolver down across the hockey player's head, inflicting painful injuries.

Morenz grappled with the bandit, who was lurking in the home of Mrs. W. Stewart, Howie's mother-in-law. After a brief scuffle, in which the intruder shed his overcoat to break clear from Morenz's grip, the bandit escaped.

Holds Quota Plan Needed to Restore Empire Industries

F. P. Burden, B.C. Agent-General, London, Heard in Courageous Address on Effects of Foreign Monopolization of Lumber Markets

SPEAKING before a prominent group of British architects recently in London, F. P. Burden, British Columbia Agent-General in England, advocated adoption of a quota plan to apply on Empire softwoods, in preference to either tariff or embargo on foreign imports. Mr. Burden showed that Soviet Russia had in the last two years virtually monopolized United Kingdom purchases of softwoods, blanketing Empire sales and cutting heavily into former lumber exports from Finland and Sweden.

Mr. Burden's address was widely reprinted in Great Britain, as a timely warning to the dangerous trend of continuing purchases from Soviet Russia, where forced labor and internal inflation have brought about condition unique in world export trade. Published in the May 5 issue of The Canadian Gazette, Mr. Burden's address was, in part, as follows:

IS IMPERIAL HERITAGE

"Ninety per cent of the Empire's softwoods are in Canada, and more than half are in British Columbia, the Pacific Coast province. I say no more than sober truth when I tell you that the whole future of this great Imperial heritage depends on the result of the deliberations at Ottawa (at the Imperial Economic Conference). As I see it, we either must go forward, making increasing contribution to the stock of the Empire's resources, or we shall be virtually wiped out of existence—certainly denied the British market—by a competition which we are powerless to meet.

"What is the present position? The United Kingdom will import this year from 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 standards of softwoods. Of this total Canada's share will be less than 5 per cent; the balance will come mainly from Russia. Russia has sold this year in three months in Great Britain 380,000 standards, before any other country has made an effective start. Her prices are lower than any other country's, she

FOUR DIE WHEN TREE HITS TRUCK

Gust of Wind Blows Elm Across Vehicle, Pinning Six to Its Floor

HAWKESBURY, Ont., May 24.—Crushed under a huge elm tree which toppled onto their truck as it sped along the highway, four persons were killed west of here early tonight. Two fourteen-year-old boys are in Hawkesbury Hospital with injuries which may cause their death.

The dead are: Lucien Lachaine, twenty-three; Andre St. Amand, fourteen; Althona Durocher, sixteen; Paul Emile Larocque, nineteen.

Marcel St. Amand and Roland Quimet are the boys critically injured.

The truck, driven by William St. Amand, father of two of the boys killed, was returning from a Victoria Day picnic party at Hawkesbury to their homes in Chute-a-Blondeau, Ont. The boys had spent the day at Carillon, Que., and had returned to Hawkesbury by train.

A sudden gust of wind blew down one of the huge elm trees which line the highway at this point across the back of the truck, pinning the six to the truck floor

W. E. DITCHBURN IS RETIRING

Commissioner of Indian Affairs for B.C. About to Vacate Office

(Special to The Colonist)

OTTAWA, May 24.—W. E. Ditchburn, Commissioner of Indian Affairs for British Columbia, will retire shortly, it was reported here today, after more than twenty years' service with the department, during which the position of British Columbia natives, under his direction, improved materially.

Mr. Ditchburn, it is said, has been in but indifferent health for some time, and is retiring on superannuation at his own request.

Another veteran of the Indian Affairs Department in British Columbia will also retire this year in the person of W. M. Halliday, of the Kwakiutl Agency, with headquarters at Alert Bay.

SENIOR INDIAN AGENT

Mr. Halliday is the senior Indian Agent in point of service in the province, having been connected with the department first as teacher in the Indian school, and later as agent, for more than thirty years. When he first went among the Kwakiutls they were a fierce, half

Motor Cooled by Suds and Water

DETROIT, May 24.—Detroit has the first suds motor—a futuristic automobile engine.

Using soap suds to cool its piston and water in its exhaust valve, this engine develops a big increase in power—one-third more than gasoline alone.

The suds and water are not fuels, but super-coolers. They demonstrate the profit in super-cooling certain extra hot spots in the present type engines.

STEEL HEAD OPTIMISTIC FOR FUTURE

James Farrell Is Confident That Conditions Are Getting Better

PACIFIC COAST WILL GET REACTION FIRST

"People living on the Pacific seaboard of America, although they were the last to be afflicted by the present depression, will be the first to feel the effects of the coming revival," James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel and subsidiary companies, stated aboard the transpacific liner Empress of Japan, shortly after the ship docked here yesterday morning from the Far East by way of Honolulu.

"There was a decided indication of improvement in conditions when I left New York a little more than a month ago; and I can say without reservation, after carefully canvassing the situation, that the turn for the better has actually been reached. I do not mean that properity is coming with a rush; but I am confident that it is coming, and while it will undoubtedly be gradual, it will neverth.ess be substantial."

SEES BRIGHT FUTURE

Asked to what he attributed his reasons for believing in a bright future for the Pacific Coast, Mr. Farrell said that all the nations touching the Pacific represented practically virgin territory for commercial exploitation; and that the Orient with its teeming millions would absorb for many years to come the surplus manufactures of industrialized countries. He fully appreciated that their buying powers were exceedingly limited at the present time, and that their finances were restricted.

To overcome this handicap and create markets for Western merchandise, he expected there would be plenty of money at their disposal in the future, believing they would be advanced credits for large amounts through an organization of international bankers. Some such arrangement will be effected, he intimated, in order that the necessities of the various nationals may be supplied, and progress assured.

IS EAGER FOR EMPIRE TRADE

Sir Wm. Peel, Governor of Hongkong, Says Colony in Accord With Project

The colony of Hongkong is entering with enthusiasm into the movement in favor of the extension of Empire trade among all parts of the British Commonwealth of nations, said Sir William Peel, K.C.M.G., K.B.E., Governor of Hongkong, who is in the city for a short visit with Lady Peel. He is a guest of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson. The visitors will leave today for Vancouver on their way to England, where they will enjoy a six months' leave of absence from official duties. They arrived by the Empress of Japan from the Orient yesterday morning.

"I had always heard of Victoria as one of the ideal places of the world. This is my first visit here and I find that the city ranks up to the high reputation which it has established. I only wish I could stay longer and enjoy the beautiful surroundings," said His Excellency when interviewed yesterday.

The return to Hongkong will be made by the Suez Canal route when the time of the visit in the Old Land has expired.

HAD LONG EXPERIENCE

Sir William has lived a great part of his life in the East. He was identified with the administration of Government in the Malay States and was officer administering the Government and High Commissioner of the Malay States before being named as Governor of Hongkong. Representative of the splendid administrators who have established a high reputation for the wise and able manner in which their duties are carried out under the British system of Government, His Excellency has been very successful.

Speaking of Hongkong, His Excellency remarked upon the growing disposition in that Crown Colony to enter into the spirit of fostering inter-Empire trade. Lady Peel is

Japanese General Fighting for Life

SHANGHAI, May 24.—Japanese physicians in attendance upon General Yoshinori Shirakawa, commander-in-chief of the Imperial army forces here, who was reported dead yesterday, said today he was still alive and had rallied slightly after an operation and further blood transfusions.

The result of the operation and transfusions, which were carried out today, was such as to give some hope he might possibly recover, they said.

The general, who was wounded by a bomb on April 29, was reported dead yesterday by all foreign and vernacular newspapers here. Later, Japanese officials denied the report, but added he was sinking rapidly.

Retaliatory Measures to Meet New U.S. Duties Urged in Federal House

British Studying Empire Trade Plans in Minute Detail

LONDON, May 24 (CP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, home at Lossiemouth, Scotland, today told the nation in a broadcast Empire Day message that the British delegation to the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference will have studied its problems with a thoroughness never before devoted to them.

It will have studied, before it leaves, every aspect of Imperial preference as a means of promoting Imperial unity, increasing the volume of Imperial trade and employing Imperial labor, he said.

"At Ottawa," he said, "I believe we can lay the foundations of an economic policy which will be mutually helpful to members of the Commonwealth, but will not be paralyzing to general world commerce. We can create freer trade conditions over a vast area of the world."

Soldier Settlement Act Amending Bill Passes at Ottawa

Will Enable Transfer of Land to Province or Municipality, Also Collection of Taxes on Lands Reverted to Department

OTTAWA, May 24.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons today to a bill amending the Soldier Settlement Act. One provision of the measure empowers the Governor-in-Council to transfer to a province—or the director of soldier settlement to transfer to the municipality in which such land is situated—the interest of the director of soldier settlement in any land which for a period of two years immediately preceding such transfer has not been the subject of a contract of sale.

Another amendment is designed to enable the department to pay taxes on lands which have reverted to the department, and which remain unsold, to the extent of such lawful taxes as may be imposed thereon. It is understood that where the lands are unoccupied no lawful taxes or assessment may be imposed or paid; but where occupied by a lessee taxes against the occupancy of the renter may be legally paid. This amendment will enable the minister to make a desired concession to municipalities.

Heidelberg Announces New Planet

HEIDELBERG, Germany, May 24 (AP).—The Heidelberg Observatory tonight announced the discovery of a new planet, which it tentatively named "Nineteen Thirty-Two," and which can attain a proximity of 7,000,000 kilometres to the earth.

This is approximately 4,350,000 miles.

STORE ROBBED BY OPERATORS

Jeweler Victimized Second Time to Extent of Nearly $400

A team of jewelry store thieves from Vancouver is believed by police to have been responsible for the theft of $400 worth of watches from the F. W. Francis jewelry store, 1620 Douglas Street, early yesterday morning.

A diamond was used to cut a circular hole in the pane of glass at the right hand side of the main entrance on Douglas Street. The window, after being subjected to the diamond cut, was broken carefully with a covered brick.

WATCHES STOLEN

A dozen watches of high value were stolen from the display. Discovery of the robbery was not made until after 6 o'clock in the morning.

The job is believed by detectives to have been done some time between 5:30 and 6:45 a.m. Proprietors of the store are now going through their stock to see if any more is missing. This is the second time that the Francis jewelry store has been robbed in a similar manner.

Gamblers Robbed By Holdup Men

MONTREAL, May 24.—Holdup men took $4,500 in cash from sixty patrons of a gambling establishment in Cote St. Michel this morning.

Eight men surprised the gamblers at play. Two revolvers flashed into sight and the sixty gamesters were lined against the wall. The guests were made, one at a time, to drop their cash into a sack.

One victim who remonstrated was stripped of his clothes and left that way.

Special Duties on Processed Copper and Export Nickel Is Suggested

ENVOY GIVES SENATORS UNOFFICIAL WARNING

OTTAWA, May 24 (CP).—Declaring that it might not yet be too late to prevent the bill passing Congress, B. Nicholson (Conservative, Algoma East), today urged upon the Dominion Government that some retaliatory action be taken against the United States in respect to the proposed tariff increase on lumber and copper.

The proposed increase in the tariff on lumber and copper would practically destroy any export business in these commodities from Canada to the United States, Mr. Nicholson declared. He made his protest on a motion to go into supply. At this stage members are permitted to discuss any subject.

SUGGESTS MEASURE

Earlier in the day Mr. Nicholson had suggested the imposition of an excise duty on nickel from Canada to that country. He had also stated that low-grade lumber from the United States was being dumped into Canada.

The requests from Mr. Nicholson and other members who supported him did not draw any statement from the Government. After they had made their representations, the House proceeded to discussion of the Beauharnois power project.

MINISTER'S WARNING

SEATTLE, May 24 (AP).—A special dispatch to The Seattle Times from Washington, D.C., today said the vote for the lumber tariff in the Senate yesterday, 36 to 24, was greater in favor than expected.

The dispatch said Hanford MacNider, the American Minister to Canada, called up several Senators "unofficially" to warn them the Canadian Government is threatening delay or inaction on the treaty for the St. Lawrence waterway in retaliation for the lumber duty.

POWER PROJECT SEIZURE URGED

Parliament Asked to Take Over Beauharnois—Charges Made

OTTAWA, May 24 (CP).—Investigation into Beauharnois affairs by a royal commission and the taking over of the operations of the vast power and navigation project by the Dominion under a new hydro-electric commission, was urged in the House of Commons today by members of the Progressive group. The suggestion was refused by the Government.

Led by Robert Gardiner, the man who made the original charges in the House against Beauharnois resulting in so many repercussions, financial and political, the Gingerites chose the dying hours of the session to return to the attack. Charges and sensational statements were hurled across the floor, but a snag was encountered when Mr. Speaker Black ruled out of order a motion embodying the two major suggestions. Undaunted by this setback, the United Farmer leader and his cohorts rallied to the attack, making verbal pleas, rather than operating through a direct motion.

MAKES CHARGES

Through sale of bonds, money was secured by Beauharnois from the investing public "under false pretences," declared Mr. Gardiner, and some of it was not accounted for. In making advances to the corporation on its bonds, the banks had broken the Bank Act, he submitted, and in guaranteeing these advances the Government connived in the misdeed.

Other members of the Progressive group followed their leader. E. J. Garland, United Farmer, Bow River, argued all power developed on the St. Lawrence, whether by Beauharnois, the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission or any other

RESCUES BROTHER FROM DROWNING

Harry Tilt Leaps After Brother Overboard From Launch in Second Narrows

VANCOUVER, May 24. — Falling overboard from his launch in the Second Narrows this morning, Herbert Tilt, East Georgia Street, was rescued by his brother, Harry, who leaped overboard after him and held him up until the arrival of rescuers in a boat.

Accompanied by their parents, the young men were traveling in the launch Vagabond through the Second Narrows on their way to Deep Cove when a skiff, towed behind the launch, broke its rope. Herbert Tilt made an effort to seize the skiff, overbalanced and plunged overboard. His brother immediately leaped after him and held him up. Both floated for half a mile before a rescuing boat reached them, as there was a strong tide running.

Herbert was found to be suffering from shock and was taken by the police to the General Hospital, but his brother was none the worse for his experience

"Jafsie" Issues Another Appeal

HOPEWELL, N.J., May 24.—From a Summer cottage at Beckett, Mass., Dr. Condon heard of the formal posting of a $25,000 reward by Governor A. Harry Moore and dictated this appeal:

"John: Money I gave you is useless. You can't get rid of it. Return to Colonel Lindbergh in time. Get your $25,000 reward.

(Signed) Jafsie."

"John" was the name by which Dr. Condon knew the Scandinavian to whom he tossed the ransom in a cemetery April 2.

PRIVATE HOTEL BEING PLANNED

Winnipeg Business Women's Club Looking for a Suitable Site Here

A new residential hotel is being planned for Victoria, it was learned here yesterday. According to word received from Winnipeg, a site for the hotel is now being sought here. The Professional and Business Women's Club, of Winnipeg, is considering a scheme whereby a hotel would be established here for the use of its retired members and affiliated clubs.

The Canadian Federation will be petitioned to take advantage of the present favorable prices and acquire a suitable house and property in Victoria's most exclusive residential section.

It is planned to convert the house into a private hotel in which retired members of the various clubs may take up their residence.

Although not yet officially endorsed by the Winnipeg club, the idea is regarded with favor by a large number of the members, it was learned.

Bicycle Rider Hurt in Crash

VANCOUVER, May 24.—James Lovatt, West Thirteenth Avenue, was treated at the General Hospital for injuries received Monday night in a collision between his bicycle and an automobile driven by E. J. Elgood, West Second, at Bienheim Street and Broadway. After spending Monday night in the hospital he was able to proceed to his home.

FLOODS CAUSE VAST DAMAGE IN MIDLANDS

Four Known Dead—Property Loss Is Estimated at $2,500,000

LONG ANXIETY ENDED BY DROP IN RIVERS

LONDON, May 25 (CP).—Reports of receding waters early today trickled into London from the English Midlands, over crippled communication lines.

From the Midlands, covered since last Sunday with swirling waters, the result of torrential week-end rains and swollen rivers, came word that, although large areas are still impassable, the waters are gradually returning within rivers. The River Don has dropped nearly a foot in the last twenty-four hours and the flood has considerably subsided in the Evesham Valley.

FAR ABOVE NORMAL

Overnight rain in Leicestershire, however, caused a slight rise and the historic Avon is nearly twelve feet above normal, marooning the new Shakespeare Memorial Theatre.

Known death toll was four and damage was roughly estimated at £500,000.

Arrangements for the collection of a relief fund were hastily completed in London last night.

Provided no more rains complicate the situation, destitute families will resolutely face the task of reclaiming their property, bit by bit, from the usurping waters.

FLOOD IS WIDESPREAD

A survey of the situation showed:

Four persons known dead.

Derby—Ten persons injured and quantities of jewelry destroyed by an exploding gas main.

Stratford-on-Avon—Isolation of the new Shakespeare Memorial Theatre.

Nottingham—Most serious flood in forty years.

Burton, Staffordshire—Half covered by water.

Central Oxfordshire—Described as "a vast lake."

HUNDREDS SEE AIRSHIP AKRON

Giant U.S. Dirigible Makes Cruise Up Straits Holiday Feature

Throngs at Victoria's many beaches from Cordova Bay to Esquimalt Lagoon yesterday watched the giant United States Navy dirigible Akron as she made a steady, leisurely cruise over the waters of Puget Sound and the Straits of Juan de Fuca. While international air regulations kept the huge airship from flying over Canadian territory, many thousands of people obtained an excellent view of the long, cigar-shaped hull of the gas-filled aircraft.

Glistening in her aluminum-blue color, the Akron made an extensive cruise over the United States littoral, in the later afternoon passing west towards the inland entrance of the Straits at a height estimated at about 4,000 to 5,00 feet. The forward operating gondola was clearly visible, but distance merged the engine cars with the hull, and drowned the noise of the multi-power motors slung on either side of the hull.

To hundreds lining the Dallas waterfront, the Akron presented a fine picture as she forged her way steadily westward between the white-capped sea and wind-tossed clouds, with the grand panorama of the Olympic Mountains as a backdrop to a twentieth century scene.

In so far as a definite request had been made by the City of Victoria for an opportunity of seeing the airship in flight, her manoeuvres appeared to be in answer to this invitation, and were regarded as a graceful act of international goodwill.

FACED STIFF BREEZE

Sailing west in the teeth of a stiff breeze, the giant dirigible called up a vision of new argosies of commerce that may one day cross the Pacific in search of trade.

REWARD HELD ILLEGAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24 (AP).—The $10,000 offered by the City of Los Angeles in 1927 for the arrest of William Edward Hickman, child slayer, was held illegal by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today.

DO-X Alights in Germany After Two Years' Travel

BERLIN, May 24 (AP).—The German flying boat DO-X, largest heavier-than-air craft, completed its transatlantic travels of almost two years with a mad spurt through storm areas over Northern Germany today, alighting at Mueggel Lake, on the outskirts of Berlin, without incident.

Thousands gathered along the wooded lakeshores in the southeastern environs of Berlin cheered wildly when the air liner appeared against the evening sky to complete a voyage of approximately 16,000 miles, in which it visited both South and North America, as well as Africa.

The crew was in top spirits and seemingly not a bit tired. Capt. Frederick Christiansen described the trip from Calshot, England, where the ship left this morning, as uneventful. The boat, he said, behaved splendidly all the way.

A member of the crew said the DO-X battled against headwinds and intermittently stormy weather from England to Berlin. It settled down on the lake shortly before 6:30 p.m. (12:30 p.m. Eastern standard time).

Thousands Enjoy Final Day of May 24 Events

Hundreds of Excursionists Invade City to Visit Races, Sport Fixtures, Bathing Beauty Contest and Street Carnival

Starting with sports in the morning, Victorians yesterday enjoyed a crowded day of May 24 celebration events, which brought the three-day programme to a close with a bathing beauty parade and frolic at the Crystal Garden and a street carnival in the evening.

Mayor Louis D. Taylor, of Vancouver; Mayor Robert Harlin, of Seattle, and other civic dignitaries from Bellingham, Port Angeles, New Westminster and Vancouver were present for the final day of the celebration. They were guests of Mayor David Leeming during their stay here.

MANY SPORT EVENTS

In the morning a large crowd attended the test cricket match to select a team to meet the Australian eleven coming here in June. In the baseball fixtures the Vancouver Japanese Asahis team won the sunrise event against the Elks, 9 to 4. In the afternoon game the Asahis defeated the Green Mill team 5 to 4. The twilight game went to the Tayos, who defeated the Eagles, 3 to 0.

Nearly 1,000 people attended Victoria's first outdoor wrestling card in the evening. Flood lights and a public address system had been installed for the occasion, and it is probable a series of open air bouts will be held this Summer.

FROLIC CROWDED

Approximately 2,000 people attended the bathing beauty parade and frolic at the Crystal Garden, where Miss Mabel Wells was selected Miss Vancouver Island from a field of thirty contestants.

A large, unestimated crowd attended the street carnival where a vaudeville programme, motion pictures and street dancing was held.

REGATTA FEATURES

Approximately 1,500 people attended the regatta at the Gorge in the afternoon. The J.B.A.A. rowing shells made a clean up of the feature events. One of the biggest features was the new Indian canoe specially built for the races. It was fifty-three feet long and the largest even entered in a regatta here.

The pet animal parade for children just after noon attracted nearly 200 entries. Several thousand people lined the route of march.

MANY VISITORS

Nearly 4,000 people attended the horse races at Colwood, where a large number of American citizens were seen. A total of 1,200 people came from Vancouver on an excursion, while hundreds of others came from Bellingham, Port Angeles, Anacortes and Seattle. Victorians during the afternoon were given an opportunity to see the new United States dirigible Akron as it flew down the straits, over Port Angeles and thence to Camp Lewis for mooring.

Browne to Start With South Wind

SEATTLE, May 24.—Final preparations were made tonight by Nathan C. Browne, New York aviator, for a take-off "anytime after 4 a.m. tomorrow" on his proposed nonstop flight from Seattle to Tokio. He planned to leave as soon as a favorable south wind was blowing.

Attendants at Boeing Field, the municipal airport, were ordered to be in readiness to assist him at that time. The chef at the Washington Athletic Club, where Browne was staying, was asked to prepare four chicken sandwiches for the flyer.

ination. It had been reported to police that Sento had been in the habit of locking himself in an inner room on the ground floor lately and burning joss sticks and paper while praying to ancestral spirits and fairies.

Police were informed that Sento had been burning joss sticks shortly before the fire broke out at 517 Fisgard Street, where he lived.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a fire occurred in the orchestra pit of the Empire Theatre. A person sitting in the front row noticed smoke rising from the pit and calmly walked to the box office and notified the manager, who in turn notified the fire department.

EXTINGUISH BLAZE

Instead of bringing the trucks around to the front entrance with sirens sounding, the fire trucks were driven to the Cormorant Street stage entrance quietly. Firemen took in the hose by the stage door and got to the scene of the blaze through the orchestra-pit door. While the audience shouted and cheered at a horse racing picture, the firemen extinguished the blaze. Only those sitting in the front row were cognizant of what was happening, and their fears were allayed by firemen, who whispered a warning to keep quiet. There were hundreds of people in the theatre who left at the close of the show ignorant of the fact that a fire had occurred.

The fire at Simcoe and Douglas Streets is believed to have been started by a carelessly dropped match or cigarette butt. A considerable area of bush was burned over before the firemen brought it under control.

RING FOUND IN TIME

WEST UNION, Ia. (UP).—The wedding ring of Mrs. Charles Wolf, lost forty-seven years ago, has been located in time for the Wolf golden wedding anniversary. Lost while Mrs. Wolf was working in a field three years after her marriage, the ring was turned up under a plough piloted by John Wenthold, who recognized the inscription on the gold band.

GOLF TEAM'S SELECTION IS WORRYING JOB

Problem of Youth Versus Experience Is Hard to Solve

WALKER CUP IS PRIZE AT STAKE

(Special to The Colonist)

LONDON — The British golfing authorities responsible for the selection of the team of British amateurs to make the journey to the United States to compete for the Walker Cup are doing a good deal of head scratching. Their problem is an acute one.

While there are a lot of young British amateurs coming along nicely, nevertheless the old conservatives at the Royal and Ancient Club St. Andrews, the responsible body, are extremely doubtful whether it will be advantageous to sacrifice the sound experience of old-timers to the courageous devil-may-care play of some of Britain's juniors.

According to Archie Compston, the best of Britain's professional hickory swingers, it is to the youth that the selectors will have to turn if Britain ever hopes to bring back the Walker Cup from America. Compston suggests an Anglo-Scottish match to give the selectors a line on the coming young players.

PROMISING YOUNGSTER

"The first youngster that I would choose," says Compston, "to play for the Scots is Eric McRuvie, the twenty-two-year-old player from Leven who finished first amateur in the open championship at Carnoustie last year.

"I was partnering him for two rounds, so I had every chance to see how good he is.

"Another young Scot," continued Compston, "I would like to see in the trials is Kenneth McCrosty, the Cambrige University captain. He swings beautifully at the ball in the traditional manner.

"The famous schools at Hoylake and St. Anne's have not produced anything like a budding champion so far, but Lancashire has produced one sound promising youngster, H. G. Bentley, who won the French open championship last year."

Compston considers the two Hartley brothers, Rex and Lister, to be about the best in the North.

Another young man who must find a place in the trials is Eric Martin-Smith, who won the amateur championship last year. Although during his absence in the Argentine he has not had much practice, he is now hard at it eliminating the effects of his long layoff.

John de Forest, who was a finalist last year, should also be included. At present he is on a golf tour of California. Compston describes him as being "highly strung," but at his best a strong player.

REFUTES OLD AXIOM

Another probable, whose name perhaps is well known in America, is L. G. Crowley. He won the English closed championship last year. He refutes the old axiom that a good cricketer will never make a good golfer. Crawley was a county cricketer and took up golf as a "Winter" pastime.

Others who may be included are the two London Scots, Tony Torrance and W. L. Hope. In each of the last two Walker Cup matches Torrance was the only British player to win the singles matches. Hope has been in three Walker Cup matches and he has been right atop of his short game lately.

It is difficult to get a line on Cyril Tolley's play lately. When on his game Cyril is easily the best British amateur. He seldom is seen at his best in the big games, but he must be included in any trial match.

Canadians Return Home From Bermuda

CANADIAN Senators and Members of Parliament reached Montreal, May 16, aboard the Lady Rodney from Bermuda, where they attended the British Empire Parliamentary Association conference. Sits Upside Down For His Training

Flying Officer C. K. Turner Hughes sits strapped in an armchair upside down for two hours each day. He is training for special upside-down flying in connection with an aerial display.

"I am to be the aerobatic of Sir Alan Cobham's displays when he visits 180 towns in the coming months giving them a national aviation day," said Turner Hughes.

"Upside down flying grows on you. I can see and hear and think and breathe normally when I have my head nearest the ground. But one has to get into training."

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

At 1 o'clock today the funeral service will be conducted under Masonic auspices for Charles P. Wood, late of Vancouver. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FASHIONS COME AROUND AGAIN

Royal Ladies of Ancient Egypt Wore Tunics in Modern Style

CAIRO.—The bodies of two royal ladies 5,200 years old, have been unearthed in the depths of the Giza Plateau, near the Pyramids.

On opening one of the coffins the ecavators, who are members of the Egyptian University's Archaeological Expedition, found that it contained the body of a woman of about twenty-five, richly adorned with jewels. She was lying on her back with her face turned toward the East. Above the head was a golden fillet, sixty centimetres long. Around the neck was a gold necklace composed of fifty pieces.

The left wrist of the second body, which is believed to be that of one of the royal ladies of the fourth dynasty, bore a bracelet of fine gold threads on which a medium-sized Cornelian was set.

This woman wore a perfectly-cut tunic embroidered with faience beads, which was not unlike the styles worn today by European and Canadian women.

Archaeologists who examined the finds declared it is extremely rare to find an intact old empire tomb, for almost all have been pillaged during the five milleniums since the Pharoahs and their royal consorts ruled the Nile.

STREET CARNIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS

A large crowd gathered on Blanchard Street last evening to enjoy the final part of the Empire Day celebrations. The street between Yates and Johnson was closed to vehicular traffic, and from an improvised platform erected about the middle of the block on the west side, a programme was rendered. Led by the orchestra of the Britannia branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., a varied programme delighted the crowd, which blocked the street.

In addition to the orchestral selections, Stanley James, Arthur Jackman, William Farmer and Thomas Obee contributed vocal numbers. Boyd McGill, from the Carnegia Library, introduced an interesting feature in his shadowgraph acts in which were portrayed a number of well known characters. William Holmes contributed a concertina selection, and W. North, a cornet solo. Under the charge of Douglas Flintoff, comic motion pictures of Felix the Cat and Laurel and Hardy, were shown.

With the conclusion of the programme, the street was cleared and the spirit of carnival was allowed to prevail. Dancing brought the entertainment to a close.

NOTED WRITER GREETED HERE

H. A. Kennedy Says Copyright Laws of Dominion Need Revision

H. A. Kennedy, who has three addresses in Canada—Montreal, Ottawa, and Lacombe, Alberta—is in the city for a few days. Mr. Kennedy is the general secretary of the Canadian Authors' Association. At a gathering of the members of the local branch at the home of Mrs. J. R. Angus, Earle Street, Monday evening, Mr. Kennedy outlined some of the work which he was being called upon to perform in the carrying out of the duties in this respect.

Mr. Kennedy's trip was undertaken for the purpose of stirring up interest in the various branches throughout the West. He spoke of the splendid reports that were received from time to time from the local branch.

WANTS WIDE BODY

Mr. Kennedy expressed the view that in his opinion the association should embrace all who were engaged in writing, whether they were newspaper writers or those who were contributing to magazines and producing novels or other work. In fact, he was not against the reception of those who were interested in the production of writings, and would receive them as honorary members.

The copyright laws of the Dominion needed revision, he said, which would bring them into line with the best laws in this respect, instead of having them somewhat on a par with those of the United States, which were far from what was desirable. There should be the assurance given to an author of a literary work, and also in the line of music, that would assure him the right to control the use of his works. This was not the case, he instanced especially in the matter of music, in Canada at present.

MAKES TAPESTRY

Mr. Kennedy had on view some very interesting pieces of tapestry which he makes in his spare time. It is described as petit point, and is made to depict scenes in the early history of Canada, including such as the taking of Quebec by Wolfe.

There was a good attendance to welcome Mr. Kennedy. D. A. Fraser, the president of the local branch, introduced the visitor and recalled some of the work Mr. Kennedy had done for literature in this Dominion. Fred Wright contributed vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Angus, the secretary, read a letter received from Lady Byng, thanking the members of the local branch for their thoughtfulness during her recent visit to Victoria in presenting her with beautiful flowers.

Refreshments were served following the reception, Mrs. Angus being assisted by Mrs. Frances Ebbs-Canavan, Mrs. J. E. Lane and Mrs. E. M. Cuppage.

HOLDS QUOTA PLAN NEEDED TO RESTORE EMPIRE INDUSTRIES

inserts a fall clause in her contracts; and the position is that British merchants are practically forced to buy, or else see themselves hopelessly undersold.

RUSSIAN MONOPOLY

"In 1929, Sweden and Finland together shipped almost twice as much timber to the United Kingdom as Russia; in 1930 this had fallen by 25 per cent; and today it is estimated that Russia will ship to the United Kingdom more than Sweden and Finland combined, during the present year. This means that today no other country can compete with Russia. It means that all other softwood countries are being elbowed out of their markets, forced to close down their mills, and in the full of time will be doomed to stand by and see the softwoods trade of the world become a Russian monopoly.

"That is a menace; make no mistake about it. Lumbering is a higly skilled industry. Disrupt it even temporarily, and it will not easily be built up again.

"In British Columbia, lumbering is our basic industry. In 1930 we produced nearly 1,000,000 standards of sawn lumber, of which 350,000 standards became waterborne exports. We sent to the United Kingdom some 50,000 standards, and it was not our fault that we did not send more. Our timber is known, particularly our Douglas fir, and it is appreciated. Eminent British architects have specified it in important work. The British railways use it for sleepers. The London County Council used Douglas fir last year in thousands of its houses, and it was largely employed in the new addition to its county hall.

UNDER GREAT HANDICAP

"Our chief difficulty in the past has been in getting United Kingdom users of timber to adopt the specification and grading of Canadian mills; but this we were gradually overcoming when we were met by this Russian competition. Remembre, we had already surmounted our initial handicap of remoteness, and the heavier freight charge, and now we are called upon to fight what simply cannot be fought. We have to pay for our timber, we pay stumpage and Crown dues on our cut, our labor enjoys a high standard of living. Compare this with an economic system that pays nothing for its raw material, little more for its labor, and is concerned with nothing at all excepting getting what it can, and how it can.

MAY AGREE ON TEACHERS' PAY

Special Committee Investigating Salaries Hope for Mutual Agreement

The provincial teachers' salary committee, to which has been intrusted the matter of evolving a schedule which would be capable of adoption as the standard wage scale for the province, reports that progress is being made. Meetings have been held and the joint honorary secretaries, R. H. Neelands and J. Sanford, acting for the committee, have made a public statement relative to what has been done so far.

"While there are, of course, many complicated issues involved in the preparation of provincial salary scales, and while there are varying viewpoints to consider, yet on the whole it can be reported that some progress has been made, and there are indications which give good hope of ultimate success," says the statement. "The meetings have displayed a fine spirit of courtesy and co-operation on the part of all members, with an evident desire to do everything possible to pave the way for mutual agreement.

"Owing to the magnitude and difficulty of the task, it can hardly be expected that the committee's work will be fully completed for some considerable time, although every effort is being made to proceed as rapidly as possible. Reports of certain portions of the work, however, may be available in the near future for the guidance of teachers and trustees in the matter of arranging next year's salaries."

TWO PROPOSALS

After detailing the proceedings which have taken place so far, the information is given that two proposals were submitted, one by the public panel group and the other by the teachers.

It is explained that there were many differences between the two proposals, and, after some deliberation, it was agreed to recommend to the full committee that the two plans be referred to a small committee for consideration and instructions to report what procedure should be now followed. The special work of this small committee is to find a common basis upon which mutual agreement may be reached.

At a general meeting of the provincial salary committee, it was agreed to adopt the recommendation, and Mr. Charlesworth, of the teachers' panle, together with R. F. Blandy, of the public panel; were named as this special committee, with power to co-operate with such members of the general committee dealing with the various aspects involved in the problem. Conferences of these representatives will take place immediately, and when the preliminary arrangements have been completed a further meeting of the general committee will be held.

rather than the last word in aerial preparedness of a naval or military nature. For several hours the airship remained in view, until the afternoon sun dulled on her bows, and the silvery image faded from sight.

It was for many in the city and environs their first sight of a lighter-than-air ship, and they made the most of their opportunity with field glasses, telescopes and plain, honest eyesight. The airship, in fact, became a leading attraction of the holiday, and sent many youngsters home with a new pride in their toy balloons.

Disappointed Boy—Boo Hoo! I didn't see Daddy knock the side of the garage down!

Mother—Never mind, dear. Perhaps you will next time if you're good.

—The Humorist, London.

"Several considerations occur to me as to what should be done. First, there is the question of currency. If trade is to be carried on within the Empire, it must be a non-fluctuating medium. I am hopeful that at Ottawa this problem will find a solution. Secondly, if Empire timber is to be preserved for Empire consumption, it seems that we have a choice of three expedients, an embargo, a duty or a quota. The quota plan seems to me to be the most hopeful one.

SUGGESTS QUOTA PLAN

"Under a quota a stimulus could be given not only to the development of the Canadian timber industry, but also to its use in the British market. Canada has a forest wealth estimated at hundreds of millions of standards and, whichever way you look at it, this is an Empire heritage. I submit that under existing conditions some such quota system as I advocate is necessary for our preservation as a self-supporting Empire," Mr. Burden concluded.

The address was given at a luncheon held at the House of Commons by Alfred Bossom, M.P., to leading British architects and builders, for the purpose of increasing the knowledge of British Empire timber possibilities. Mr. Burden's remarks made an immediate impression, and the discussion has been taken up by a large section of the British press, giving prominence to his views, and calling for action to meet the conditions presented.

B.C. BORROWS IN LONDON

A British Columbia loan for £1,500,000 is being underwritten by London financial houses at 5 per cent interest and selling at 99. What the actual proceeds will be to this Province will depend upon the rate of exchange at the time the money is secured, but it will be only drawn from London as required, and no doubt every possible advantage will be taken of the exchange situation as it develops. The feature of the loan is that it should be the first launched on behalf of this Province in London for the last eighteen years. It indicates a return to a process of Imperial financing for Empire needs.

The money accruing from the present loan is required by British Columbia to retire treasury bills, for roads and buildings in this year's programme, for the development of the University Endowment lands and for Pacific Great Eastern purposes. That the loan should be underwritten in London is an excellent evidence of faith there in the future of this Province. What British Columbia has been able to accomplish may mark the beginning of a rejuvenated interest among English investors in Canadian development. The present happening comes at an appropriate time when so much attention is being centred on the forthcoming Imperial Conference at Ottawa.

JUDGES' SALARIES

Mr. R. B. Bennett expresses what so many feel in saying that the best legal minds of the country are not attracted to the Bench because the rewards there are inadequate. His statement came during a discussion in the House of Commons regarding the application of a 10 per cent reduction to judges' salaries. The truth is that the outstanding lawyers of the country, some of whom earn $50,000 per annum, some more, could not afford to take a judgeship at the salaries at present paid on the Bench. That is what Mr. Bennett means in saying that the Bench is not what it would be did public sentiment hold judges in the honor with which they should be invested.

Men in their careers have to consider not only their own welfare but the welfare of their families. A lawyer earning large emoluments at the Bar because of his abilities is unlikely to sacrifice what he earns for one-third of the monetary reward, no matter what permanency may be attached to the occupation. He prefers to rely on his individual efforts rather than be tied down to any salary. That is a reason why some of the best lawyers refuse judgeships, and the Bench suffers in proportion. Mr. Bennett, and anyone who has a keen sense of the dignity of the administration of justice, appreciates the strength of the argument in favor of not detracting from the present rewards. In these times it requires courage to take such a stand, but Mr. Bennett has never lacked courage. In what he says he does not detract from the merit of those who occupy positions on the Bench. He merely points out that some of the best legal minds are not attracted to judgeships and he has given the reason. The argument is a substantial one. It may prove a doubtful experiment to subject judges to salary reductions.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

In China there is what is known as the Anti-Japanese National Salvation Association, the object of which is the permanent severance of economic relations with Japan. The anti-Japanese movement is directed by the Kuomintang and that political party is supported by the National Government. The association conducts anti-Japanese propaganda, holds meetings and parades, distributes handbills and posters and formulates the modus operandi of the anti-Japanese boycott. From time to time it has passed resolutions the tenor of which is, "not to use Japanese goods," "not to buy Japanese goods," "not to transport Japanese goods," "not to use Japanese money," "not to use Japanese steamers," not to associate with Japanese nationals," "not to work for Japanese," "not to patronize Japanese banks," "not to use Japanese godowns," "not to supply Japanese with provisions and articles of daily use."

In addition to the foregoing, the "Salvation" movement has formulated regulations affecting the registration and the examination of Japanese goods. It urges Chinese employees of Japanese to strike or to retire. It keeps vigilance on Chinese who frequent Japanese business houses. It imposes fines and punishment on those whose conduct is in contravention of the spirit of the boycott, even to the extent of confiscating their goods or property, parading them through the streets and subjecting them to being pilloried in public. This movement has now been in effect for many months. It was in progress before Japan commenced the process of occupying Manchuria.

Leaders in the "Salvation" movement are Chinese students, male and female. Their activities are condoned by the National Government. That Government has organized a Students' Volunteer Corps with local units in various places. The students' movement has reached such heights that even the Government cannot control it. As it has developed it has become military in its significance with Shanghai as its headquarters. It has been responsible for many violences against Japanese women and Japanese school children. It has led to the eviction of hundreds of Japanese residents from Chinese areas.

In view of the attitude of certain forces in China, it can hardly be wondered at that Japanese determination in the matter of the future of Manchuria should be maintained. There are those who condone the character of the Chinese boycott, who applaud the attitude of the students, who are at one with the anti-foreign propaganda which maintains under the aegis of the National Government of China. This whole system was in full swing long before the Shanghai incident and even before Japan took military measures in Manchuria. Those who are aware of the history of efforts of China to abolish extraterritoriality are fully informed on this point. Those who know best understand Japan's attitude and can endorse her determination not to allow the League of Nations, or any other institution, to interfere with her course of action. When she reaches a new rapprochement with China she intends to reach it on her own behalf, and under conditions which will not subject her to the many insults that have marked Oriental relationships for many years past.

THE "HAPPY-GO-LUCKIES"

Among the multiplicity of new political parties springing into existence, that led by an independent member of the Alberta Legislature—to be known as a Provincial Party—has at least the merit of originality. It is to be a go-as-you-please affair; in other words, it is to be without a platform. Each member can adopt any thesis, or policy, or conception, or obsession, or take any stand whatever on any issue that may arise. A commentator on this happy-go-lucky aggregation of political views suggests that a more appropriate name for the party would be "Licence" rather than "Provincial."

Up to the time of the formation of this child of Mr. F. C. Moyer's ingenuity, Alberta had only five political parties—the United Farmers, Conservatives, Liberals, Independents and Laborites. The Happy-Go-Luckies are expected to draw adherents from all these and promote a new element of instability in Provincial politics. It could not be otherwise, for leadership in such a political aggregation as Mr. Moyer is assembling must prove a futile task. One of the essentials in government, as well as in all walks in life, is discipline. It is an ineradicable part of the duty of individual relationships and a governing factor in human progress. How Mr. Moyer intends to promote his political ambitions without discipline suggests as comic a note as has ever been introduced into party propaganda.

The report circulated in an American newspaper that Canada was negotiating a trade agreement with Soviet Russia appears to have been designed to cast doubt upon the bona fides of this country's attitude in the coming Imperial Conference. The report has received immediate and emphatic denial from Premier Bennett. There have been no negotiations of any character and none is contemplated. Any future trade arrangements entered into by Canada will be contingent on a scheme of Empire reciprocity.

Mr. Walter Lippmann, writing in Time and Tide, says: "The real measure of British prestige is that on the Continent all the Scandinavian countries, Italy and Germany, are moving within the ambit of British economic and financial action. There can be no question whatever as to the reality of the British influence in Europe. Great Britain has resumed its ancient position among the Powers of Europe."

Mr. J. S. Woodsworth (Winnipeg North Centre) has asked in Parliament if wheat shipped from Vancouver to Vladivostok is to be paid for in goods or in gold. Mr. H. H. Stevens, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, was unable to give any information, inasmuch as the transaction is a private one. It may be taken for granted that there will be no payment in gold by Russia.

During the present session of Parliament, Mr. J. S. Woodsworth (Winnipeg North Centre) must have established a long-distance record of loquacity. There is hardly a subject that has come before the House of Commons on which he has not spoken and in a multiplicity of words. He is a man who, seemingly, loves to hear himself talk—a human vessel replete with sound.

PRELUDE IN E MINOR (CHOPIN)

Perhaps it is a silent garden where
The ghost of smiling childhood starts up from
The rank grown grass and flowering weeds, or some Old image kneiling sadness mid the fair
Of life; or when beside some grave a prayer
Is sighed; or when, alone, the bleak vision
Of waves that sing the slow eternal song
Heard all night through, the saddest theme to hear.

Was this the saddest music that he heard?
I hear the waves within its harmony,
In the recurring phrase, the minor third,
The modulation and monotony
Of rhythm, chord and theme. The waves have surged
Upon the shore. I hear the sea, his sea.

BEARS BRUNT ON INQUIRY

Affairs of New York Mayor Under Review by Investigating Committee

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP).—Mayor James J. Walker again bore the brunt of the Hofstadter legislative investigation today when Russell T. Sherwood, absent accountant, was identified as the man who transacted his financial affairs for six years.

In the last public session before the Mayor opens his defence on Wednesday the committee was also told that Walker was paid $15,028 in all for "special legal services"—$3,023 of it after he took office—by a theatre corporation.

Late in the day United States district attorney, George Z. Medalie, declined to confirm or deny a report that he and Hugh McQuillan, internal revenue officer in this district, were investigating the mayor's income for the past four years of his administration, beginning in 1928 and extending through 1931. Previous to this development, Counsel Samuel Seabury put in evidence forty-nine letters and ushered a file of bank officials across the platform to show that Sherwood prior to his disappearance in August, 1931, represented Mayor Walker at a New York bank and was acknowledged by the mayor as his fiscal agent.

PROVES STAR WITNESS

Abraham H. Schwartz, treasurer of the Century Circuit Inc., a theatre holding concern, proved to be the star witness of the day and fenced deftly with the counsel.

Turning down a tendered waiver of immunity, the witness testified he had paid the mayor $2,000 in cash in May, 1925, $10,000 in stock in August, 1926—after Walker had been installed—and $3,028 by cheque in 1929 for services he refused to explain under the privilege of a client's relations with his counsel. He had a talk with the mayor at city hall in 1926 in which he recalled saying:

"I want to give you and your associates $10,000 in stock in my companies, Jimmy, in return for the legal services you gave me."

"Abe, I'm Mayor of New York now," he quoted Walker as replying, "you take the matter up with Sherwood. He transacts all the business."

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Bonaheea drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

SERVICE

Weavers of words, and dreamers
Vowed to the service of art,
Each one clasping a vision
Close to his eager heart,
Each one fashioning ever
Truth into beauty's mask,
Each one hungering only
After the joy of his task.
Gladness would be your portion
Always, could you but go
Rapt in the wake of your star-gleam,
Little of life to know.

Weavers of words and dreamers,
Know life is not content
Ever to have you follow,
Freely, your fancy's bent.
Life will not let you labor
Vowed to the service of art,
Clasping your vision of beauty
Close to your happy heart.
Each man must share in life's burdens,
Each one its fullness must know;
Serve not his dreams, but his brothers,
Ever life wills it so.

DEATH THREATS IN CALIFORNIA

Governor and Others Receive Letters as Results of Merger of Patrol Systems

LOS ANGELES, May 24 (AP).—Death threats against Governor James Rolph, Jr., and other officials concerned in the recent merger of the Los Angeles county and state motor patrols, were revealed yesterday by County Supervisor Frank L. Shaw.

Shaw said that he and Ivan Kelso, chief counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, were among those threatened and that a member of the county motor patrol was under suspicion.

Letters signed "the gang" began to reach the supervisor before the merger was completed, he said, and have continued with increasing violence of expression. Informed of the threats, the supervisor added, Governor Rolph assigned investigators to the task of tracing the author.

Proponents claimed the consolidation of the patrols effected a saving of $240,000 annually to Los Angeles County.

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRIES

Sir,—The above has been the strongly urged advice of all our traders, and rightly so, for without the support of our own people, how can we expect our local industries, which mean bread and butter to so many of our citizens, to flourish.

Yet, the Moguls of the Saanich Municipality have decided that they prefer to buy in the States rather than in their own country. The facts are, then:

On May 29, the insurance of the municipality expires. Tenders were called for and given. The two lowest, both of whom quoted exactly the same price, were: one, an American firm; the other, a Canadian. Our local leaders, showing to my mind a very poor national spirit, gave the tender to the American firm. Why? Now, I have seen the list of the investments held by the Canadian company, every one of which is in Canadian affairs, whilst a very large amount is invested in our own British Columbia bonds, and I personally am disappointed and bewildered, and feel that the ratepayers of Saanich should realize this serious state of affairs.

THE PRICE DEPRESSION

I was only one of three critics to challenge the statements of your essayist, Mr. Gordon; but I note that his reply is confined to my letter, although he twice inadvertently refers to me as "Mr. Crump."

Courtesy requires a return of the compliment by a reply on my part. It is not merely the admitted ambiguity of his prophecy and his failure to meet the real issue that I object to; my criticism goes much deeper than that. I say that the case he presents is inconsistent with the facts and therefore untenable. It is, in essence, the old "laissez faire diehard gold bug" case with which our press and politicians have made us all so painfully familiar, one that can be summarized under four main propositions:

1. There was "an era of world inflation for about five years prior to October, 1929" (Mr. Gordon finds ambiguity as to this desirable).

2. This was followed by the "natural salutary process of world deflation" that we are now enjoying.

3. This is an instance of the "trade cycle" of which history affords numerous examples, as bad or even worse.

4. "Prosperity is round the corner" (has been since Christmas, 1929). "All's well! We are on the eve of the greatest period of prosperity in history. Coue treatment is recommended in the interim."

My reply to your essayist, to Premier Tolmie, to the Don Quixote of The Colonist and his faithful Sancho Panza, "R. B. D.," is that all these propositions are demonstrably false.

The "greatest era of inflation the world has ever known" came at the end of the war, and the necessary postwar deflation process took place more than a decade ago. The Statist price index at the date of the Armistice stood at 231, reached 266 in April, 1920, and fell to 133 by December, 1921—the greatest deflation on record. Two years later, in December, 1923, it stood at the same figure, 133, and in that year Stamp wrote: "The present level is a fair compromise between the claims of the old generation and the new." The general view of competent econonomists in the two following years was that if the gold standard was properly worked, there were more factors in favor of a moderate rise in prices than of a fall. Yet in 1925, for the reasons I have suggested previously, a fall commenced that has continued without any abatement up to the present time. It is too late now for Mr. Gordon to attempt to square these facts with his original thesis of "the greatest era of inflation the world has ever known—the orgy of inflation that terminated in the hectic days of 1929."

He tries to extricate himself by instancing "wheat at $3, copper at 35 cents, silver at $1 an ounce." But these are all prices of the old post-war inflation and deflation period of a decade ago, and were only a distant memory in 1928-1929, when even a combination of producers could not peg the price of copper at around 15 cents, when the pool was struggling to hold the price of wheat at half the figure quoted, and the bottom had fallen out of the silver market. What terminated in 1929 was a stock market boom in New York—a local and parochial affair. It was the depressing effect of a falling commodity price level resulting in 1928-1929 in a reduced volume of trade in the U.S.A. that put the lid on the antics of the stock market. The collapse was, in fact, a resulting aggravation, not the cause of the previous deflation. Even Mr. Gordon cannot alter the sequence of cause and effect. The static school of economic thought to which he belongs is misled by adherence to its pet fallacy that history always repeats itself.

It is true that there is no previous instance in economic history of a trade revival upon a falling price level of the magnitude of 1925-1927. But America set a precedent by prospering under deflation, this being made possible by the special spurt due to the transition to the installment system and the abundant capital available for investment.

In Europe generally, and England in particular, there was no orgy of inflation in the years 1925-1929. On the contrary, it would be nearer the truth to say that we were undergoing an orgy of deflation.

The "orgy of inflation" culminated in the early days of 1920, so long ago, in fact, that Mr. Gordon seems to have forgotten all about it.

How absurd, then, is it to speak of Europe, or the world as a whole, after 1929, "undergoing a process of correction, paying a heavy price for the orgy of inflation that terminated in the hectic days of 1929; a cure painful, but salutary." It is the "cure" theory that is the basic mistake of the hardshell economic school. They have no cure.

May I also suggest to Mr. Gordon that in arguing in opposition to what he calls "inflation, the giving of fictitious values to commodities" (but what is, in truth, anti-deflation, the giving of true values in place of the present wholly fictitious ones) that a belated attempt to bolster up his case by dragging in the New York Stock Exchange only darkens counsel in a discussion where both parties have used the terms "inflation" and "deflation" in reference to the relation of commodities to gold. Stock market prices are governed mainly by trade conditions, not by fluctuations in gold values.

I have now tested propositions 1 and 2 by modern economic history, and found them wanting. I will attempt, in a further letter, to subject items 3 and 4 to the verdict of history, to which your paper has appealed.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of May 25, 1882)

Song Well Received—A great many people last evening attended the rehearsal for the public rendition of Tennyson's new song, entitled "Hands All Round." His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was present at the meeting and expressed the hope that the new number would meet with the popularity it richly deserved.

Excursionists Here—Crowds of pleasure seekers from Puget Sound filled the streets of the city yesterday and showed their appreciation of the Victoria roads and scenery by engaging horses and buggies and going on a tour of observation through the city and suburbs.

New Westminster News—The fire which for several days has been raging outside the city of New Westminster has spread to within one-quarter of a mile from the town, and strenuous efforts are at present being made to save the provincial penitentiary, which is in great danger. The fire started at the upper end of Port Moody and has worked steadily down.

Celebration News—Yesterday's celebration was the best yet held in this fair city, and what with the baseball game in the morning and the regatta in the afternoon the citizens enjoyed a galaxy of excitement from early morning to late at night.

CARE OF BLIND SHOWS ADVANCE

Canadian National Institute Officers Present Encouraging Reports

Substantial progress was made by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in the Western Division, Alberta and British Columbia, according to reports submitted to the annual meeting of the board of management of the Institute held recently.

As in other spheres of life, the Institute has found itself in the throes of the financial depression, but nevertheless the members of the organization have given their conscientious support to all matters concerning the welfare of the Institute.

SOCIAL ACTIVITY

Perhaps the most marked advance during the year ended March 31, 1932, has been in social activity and, especially in Vancouver has this advance been noticeable with the formation of an entertainment club, which has given many hours of pleasure to the blind in that city, one of the reports states.

NEW OFFICERS

The following officers were elected for the current year: Rev. C. C. Owen, honorary chairman; Charles Murphy, chairman; Fred Landsberg, Victoria, vice-chairman; E. W. Lamphrey, treasurer, and E. S. Robinson, honorary secretary.

In his report, the honorary treasurer submitted a financial statement which showed that the Western Division was in a sound financial position and also that cash benefits accruing to the blind, through the activities of the Institute, amounted to more than $50,000. It was also shown that there had been a substantial decrease in operating expenses of both the broom and the basketry factories.

EMPLOYMENT FIGURES

Reports were received and adopted from the Alberta and British Columbia executive offices and the Supervisor of Placement. The latter department now provides employment for eighteen blind men and women, with an approximate net yearly earning of $15,900. J. F. Clunk is the Supervisor of Placement. Other reports included one from the broom and basketry factory, which detailed the sales for the past year, and there was a report from the fieldworkers department which dealt with relief, home teaching and prevention of blindness. The superintendent's report dealt with the activities of the Institute during 1931-32. In the report he recommended that the coming year be largely devoted to the maintenance of present services, and that of expansion of activities be confined entirely to those of urgent necessity.

The income to the Western Division, which is composed of British Columbia and Alberta, amounted to $45,310.07, received by way of government subsidies, Vancouver Welfare Federation and donations from fraternal organizations, municipalities and individuals. Out of this amount the sum of $35,986.13 was expended on direct benefits to the blind.

German railways will run excursion trains with secret destinations.

Soviet Soldierettes Ready for War

IN view of the whispers and rumors of gathering war clouds on the Russian-Manchurian frontier, which may not be true, it is interesting to note that Soviet Russia will not have to depend on its gigantic Red Army alone if it is called upon to fight. These young girls, now undergoing intensive military training, will probably find themselves in the front line trenches wielding rifle and bayonet alongside their men comrades. Inset is Klementi Voroshilov, Soviet Commisar for War, who in a May Day speech to the Red Army made several allusions to possible trouble in the Far East. He intimated that enemies of the Soviet are trying to provoke war and that if it does come to a showdown, Russia will show how she can resist.

Inspiring Address and Music Given Last Night

Symphony Orchestra and Victoria Male Choir Render Programme of Patriotic Selections—Oration on "Empire Day" by Albert Sullivan

Approximately 1,200 people enjoyed the musical programme and Empire Day oration given at the Royal Athletic Park Monday night in connection with the May 24 celebration.

The music was most inspiring, while the address given by Albert Sullivan, Provincial Inspector of High Schools, and Mayor David Leeming were of a stirring character and received the acclaim of the throng.

SPLENDID EFFFORT

The musicians under the leadership of Alfred Prescott, and the Victoria Male Voice Choir, conducted by Frank Tupman, gave great pleasure with their programme.

Quoting a great British statesman, Mr. Sullivan declared that "all our past acclaim is for our future. When Great Britain last Fall, faced with a crisis, she met it staunchly and has since shown that Britain shall yet stand."

The speaker drew a picture of Great Britain standing against the world, fighting for her economic existence. Her efforts to overcome the many handicaps facing her had been met with success until now she stood in othe forefront in the financial world.

MADE SACRIFICE

"The people of that country were asked by a Union Government to make a sacrifice. They voted for self sacrifice in order that Great Britain might stand against the world. You remember how Ramsay MacDonald was turned down by his own party, how he and Stanley Baldwin joined forces in a common cause and won a personal victory? Now today the financial world looks to Great Britain to lead the way out of the depths of depression and she has shown the way by economizing in every department, reducing the dole and leading all other nations in the reduction of her unemployed," the speaker declared, amid cheers.

TRUE BRITISHERS

Mr. Sullivan dealt briefly with the foundation of Victoria, five years after Queen Victoria came to the throne, and said: "If those early pioneers could have been at the school sports today, they would surely have said 'this is our fondest dream come true.' Young Canadians who are to be the coming leaders of this great country showed the true British sportsmanship in all their events at the school sports this afternoon. It really made one feel proud to be a Britisher," he said.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Mayor Leeming in introducing the speaker said: "The citizens of Victoria have always evinced special regard for Empire Day and on the eve of our annual celebration it is fitting that we should voice our sentiments of loyalty and our feelings of sympathy and co-operation with each unit of the vast commonwealth of nations known as the British Empire.

"We all realize that the nations of the world are passing through a period of anxiety and difficulty and arising out of these difficulties large numbers of people in every land are in a state of unrest and discontent.

MAKES APPEAL

"With this in mind, it is incumbent upon the citizens of the British Empire to demonstrate to the world at large that the Empire is a vital, living thing, imbued with a solidarity of purpose and a unanimity of thought which fits our Empire for that high place in world affairs it has always held and that we can rely on the sound common sense of our people to lead us back to the highway of prosperity." His Worship said:

"May we hope that the Empire conference shortly to be held in Ottawa will give proof of the fact that a genuine spirit of kinship and friendship pervades the British Dominions and Colonies and that we are determined to weld each unit of the Empire into an economic whole," Mayor Leeming declared.

PATRIOTIC AIRS

The programme of music given at the park was of a high order. The large symphony orchestra rendered several inspiring patriotic numbers and delightful pieces introducing national songs and airs. The Victoria Male Choir also sang some rousing numbers. Both groups were accorded warm applause.

INFANT PASSES AWAY

There passed away yesterday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, William Wallis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Wallis, of McMurdo, B.C. He is survived by his parents, one brother, David, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGibbon, 1268 Mackenzie Street, Victoria. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

FUNERAL SERVICE

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the funeral service will be held for James Veitch. Interment will be made at Colwood Cemetery.

That Body of Yours

ANGINA PECTORIS-BREAST PANG

One of the most alarming ailments that comes to man is what is called angina pectoris.

The pain which is very severe comes on suddenly right over the breast bone—a tightness that gives the patient the feeling that death is at hand. The pain usually goes through the chest to the back into the shoulders and left arm. The patient remains "pale, haggard and motionless."

This condition lasts a few seconds or a few minutes, sometimes longer. When it has passed, there is often a passage of gas upward into the mouth or out the lower bowel. You can readily see that a patient getting rid of the gas immediately afterwards would naturally think that indigestion was the cause of the trouble, which of course is not the case.

How are you to know if you really have angina pectoris or some other condition or pain which resembles it?

In true angina pectoris there is always some trouble with the heart or blood vessels—enlargement or dilatation of the left side of the heart, flowing back of blood into the large chamber on left side, weakness of the power of the heart muscle, and hardening of the arteries or blood vessels. Your physician can usually discover the underlying cause.

However, there are a number of conditions which resemble angina pectoris—pain along the nerves in the region of the heart, gall stones, asthma due to weak heart, and false angina in which the patient is able to walk and talk and a feeling that the heart is distended or enlarged and not constricted or tightened down as in true angina.

FUNERAL NOTICE

An Emergent Communication of Britannia Lodge, No. 73, A.F. & A.M., will be held in the Masonic Temple, Douglas and Fisgard Streets, on Wednesday, May 25, at 12.30 p.m. sharp, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Charles P. Wood, a member of Burrard Lodge, No. 50, A.F. & A.M., North Vancouver. Members of local lodges and sojourning brethren in good standing invited to attend.

By order of the Worshipful Master.
W. S. BROWN, Secretary.

As it is important that the right diagnosis be made, it is interesting to learn of the discovery of Drs. A. Lenn, A. Cariton Ernstene and Bernard M. Jacobson, who found that injecting I.C.C. of adrenalin (epinephrin) into the skin that the typical or true pain of angina pectoris was produced in patients who were really suffering with angina pectoris, whereas it had no effect on those who did not have the true angina pectoris.

The remedy during an attack is nitrate of amyl, a "pearl" of which may be crushed in a handkerchief placed in bottom of glass tumbler and inhaled or breathed into the lungs.

Attacks may frequently be avoided by keeping mostly to a milk diet, cutting down on salt, keeping intestine active, the use of heart tonics and rest in bed.

VICTORIA PILOT VIEWS AIRSHIP

Ernest Eve, local pilot, accompanied by his daughter Nan, yesterday afternoon flew out to view the U.S.S. Akron, giant American dirigible, as she plied her way down the strait. Owing to unsuitable weather conditions, which made flying very rough, Mr. Eve and his daughter were unable to get very close to the big ship.

At one time, however, they were within about four miles of her and could make out her markings quite plainly. Miss Eve also took a number of photos of the ship.

MUST AVOID ADVANCE IN GOLD VALUE

Economist Says Internal Development and Expansion Essential

DISCUSSES TARIFFS AND INTERNAL COSTS

LONDON, May 24 (CP).—"Canada's problem is far more than the problem of industrially developing the Dominion and securing assured markets for her exports. It is much more, at present, a question of joining in the common task of arresting the continued appreciation of gold."

This statement was made last night by Sir Josiah Stamp, addressing a dinner gathering in his honor at the Canada Club. Sir Johiah is the famed British economist who investigated trading in wheat futures for the Canadian Government.

The dinner was presided over by Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, vice-president of the Bank of Montreal. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in Landon, was among the many guests.

TARIFFS AND CONDITIONS

The task of establishing equilibrium between international tariff policies at Ottawa or elsewhere, said Sir Josiah, was inescapably bound up with comparative internal costs. These, on the other hand, underwent relative changes every day, not, it was true, in real value, but in monetary expression, which was the only factor tariff systems could take heed of. Tariff discriminations, expressed in money values, might be most scientifically based upon differences of cost this year and yet become hopelessly wrong next year.

Canada's economic dependence upon world prices was greater than ever, Sir Josiah continued. It was sometimes thought her decision to adhere to some fixed relation for her currency to the New York dollar, as distinct from the opposite course of adopting sterling or some intermediatediate level rested upon the importance to the Dominion of avoiding payment of substantial premiums on her heavy New York obligations. It had been said that Canada could not possibly afford this premium, or its general effect upon her credit.

MORE APPARENT THAN REAL

This dilemma was more apparent than real, in the opinion of Sir Josiah. Even if Canada left her present dollar standard, and her international price level rose, she would still have to pay her New York obligations, and with gold prices raised abroad for her wheat, the relation between the Canadian dollar and the New York dollar would become immaterial for the purpose of payment.

Although it was important that Canada should raise her internal price level for successful prosecution of her industries and the balancing of her provincial budgets, he believed the Dominion might be no more successful than England if the advantage gained by exchange depreciation continued to be offset by falling gold prices abroad.

It might well be better, Sir Josiah said, for the Dominion's internal price level to remain practically the same as at present than for it to fall continuously in relation to the price level of the United States. The United States, he stated, was far better balanced internally than Canada, and consequently better able to stand price depreciation.

WOULD MAINTAIN GOLD STANDARD

South African Committee Finds Abandoning of Basis Would Not Improve Conditions

CAPETOWN, South Africa, May 24 (CP).—A parliamentary select committee appointed last February to decide on desirability of continued maintenance of the gold standard in the Union of South Africa has reported unanimously that interests of the country demanded its retention.

The committee's report, twenty pages long, said among other things: "Abandonment of the gold standard would confer no absolute benefit to the Union and would not increase our national wealth by one penny. It could at best only temporarily alleviate matters by bringing about a redistribution of wealth in the country, the full effects of which it is difficult to foresee."

At the time of the committee's formation the Opposition, led by General Jan Christian Smuts, gold standard foe, refused to participate, in the face of a declaration by the Government that should the committee's recommendations be unfavorable to its intention of retaining the gold standard they would be ignored.

A number of the Opposition, however were forced to attend the committee's first meeting by ruling of the Speaker of the House. They resigned immediately after. Thus, while the report was unamimous as far as was possible, it bore signatures of Government members and one Laborite only.

Transmit Hydrogen Into Helium

AT the Cavendish Laboratory at Cambridge, England, two young doctors, thirty and thirty-four, respectively, recently startled the scientific world by succeeding in splitting the atom, one of the greatest scientific feats in history. Not only did they accomplish the task of splitting the atom, but they also succeeded in transmitting one element into another—atoms of hydrogen have been turned into atoms of that rare and commercially valuable gas, helium. At the same time the energy of part of an atom has been released in a quantity 60 per cent greater than the amount used to produce this phenomenon, although it occurred only once in each 10,000,000 atoms bombarded. The young scientists worked under the direction of the noted British scientist, Lord Rutherford. Left to right: Dr. E. T. S. Walton, Lord Rutherford and Dr. J. D. Crockroft.

The topic of his address will be: "Cecil Rhodes, Empire Builder."

To Repair Dwelling—F. C. Johnson has been granted a permit by the Esquimalt council to make alterations and repairs to a dwelling on Lyle Street. He was advised that the permit would cover certain repairs, but any obstacles that might arise when the new zoning by-law was passed would have to be taken up at a later date.

To Address Rotarians—Madame L. de Turczynowick will address members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 12:10 o'clock. Her topic will be: "The Contribution of the United Empire Loyalists to Canada and the British Empire." The speaker is a native of St. Cathrines, Ontario, and of Loyalist ancestry."

Endorse Resolution—The council of the municipality of Esquimalt, Monday night, indorsed a resolution from the municipality of Richmond to request the Federal Government to amend the immigration laws concerning aliens and the length of time residence prohibits deportation. It is the intention of the amendment to make it easier for municipalities to request deportation of aliens who cannot be assimilated.

Enumeration Starts—Enumeration of voters for the new provincial voters' list will start this morning, it was stated yesterday by W. C. Winkel, who is in charge of the field force of fifty men. A house-to-house canvas will be made and offices will be opened in the Sayward Building, 1211 Douglas Street. The office will be open for at least a month and all information concerning the list will be given over telephone E mpire 0541.

savage people. Today they have attained to a degree of progress and civilization that gives them high rank among the aborigines of the West.

Mr. Ditchburn has long been a resident of Victoria. Born in England, he came to Canada at the age of six years, with his parents. Since 1890 he has been a resident of the West, most of the time being spent in Victoria. For many years he served as a member of the mechanical staff of The Colonist.

APPOINTED INSPECTOR

In 1910 he was appointed Inspector of Indian Agencies in this province. Later, this office was renamed and he became Commissioner of Indian Affairs for the Province of British Columbia. In that office, Mr. Ditchburn has been careful to see that the Indians, as the wards of the Dominion Government, were not imposed upon in any instance, and has carried out his duties of protecting the best interests of the natives at all times.

During his early years he was very prominent as a lacrosse player, being a member of the Victoria team in the days when the organization ranked very high, winning the Canadian lacrosse championship. Mr. Ditchburn was a member of the team that went East from here and carried off the honors.

SOLDIER HURT IN COLLISION

Private N. H. Clarke Taken to Jubilee Hospital, Following Crash

Pte. N. H. Clarke, of the P.P.C.L.I., stationed at Work Point Barracks, was injured in an accident at the bend in the Island Highway near Six-Mile House yesterday afternoon, it was learned last night.

According to the meagre information available, Private Clarke was riding a motorcycle into the city when he came into collision with a taxi cab which was taking passengers to the Colwood races.

The cyclist suffered only minor injuries, but was taken to the Jubilee Hospital, where he received medical treatment.

company, belonged to the Dominion. Quebec, he claimed, did not possess the right to incorporate Beauharnois because of its interprovincial character, and the Dominion should cancel its rights.

The time had come for the Dominion to take over the power project, insisted Mr. Garland. It should be reorganized under Federal regulation or "the great power interests will seize control of this enterprise in its dying days." Elaborating on this point, J. S. Woodsworth, Winnipeg Laborite, said it would be a "sorry triumph" if Sir Herbert Holt, of Montreal, gained control of Beauharnois.

"ABSURD PROPOSAL"

Hon. Charles H. Cahan, Secretary of State, replied for the Government and drew round after round of applause from Liberals as well as Conservatives. There could be "no more absurd opinion rendered" than that the Bank Act had been violated, he said.

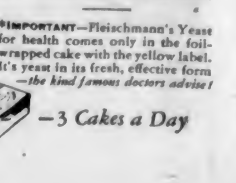

To the suggestion that the Dominion should seize control of Beauharnois, Mr. Cahan replied this was "the appeal of the ordinary burglar when he enters a house to take property he knows does not belong to him." Quebec contended it had the legal right over power generated on the St. Lawrence, and this had never been upset by court.

The State Secretary directed some pointed words in the direction of J. S. Woodsworth who "deliberately and persistently seeks to break down parliamentary institutions and responsible government in this country." And of Robert Gardiner he said: "As far as imagination is concerned, if I could reach anywhere his limits, I would abandon my role as a lawyer and begin to write extravagant poetry or romance."

TO HELP INVESTORS

The financial stability of Beauharnois was not in the best shape possible, admitted Mr. Cahan. He pleaded with the House to give to the bondholders "an opportunity without obstruction of reckless and immature criticism to take measures to place the property on a paying basis." The object of Parliament should be to enable the men and women who put their money into Beauharnois to gain financial stability.

Armand Lavergne, deputy speaker of the House and Conservative member for Montmagny, Quebec, placed himself on record as agreeing with the contentions of the Progressives, admitting he was "doing a little housebreaking" in making his announcement.

"I can't engage you. I haven't enough work for the men I have."

"That does not matter. Very little work would keep me going."—Vart Hem, Stockholm.

"Don't neglect this TROUBLE!"

HEADACHY? Listless? Appetite gone?

Did you know that in an amazing percentage of cases such troubles—and many others—can be traced directly to . . . Constipation?

As Dr. André Cain, of Paris, co-author of the famous "Maladies de l'Intestin," states, "If you have constipation . . . do not take harsh laxatives and drugs . . . there is nothing better than fresh yeast . . ."

Thousands of people have discovered in Fleischmann's Yeast a simple addition to their diet that gives entirely natural relief from intestinal sluggishness and resulting ill health.

Eaten regularly, Fleischmann's Yeast softens the accumulated food wastes in the intestines . . . stimulates the natural action that removes them easily.

In addition, it supplies certain elements lacking in most ordinary foods—vitamins B, G and D.

And as Fleischmann's Yeast "tones," cleanses and nourishes the system, that persistent "tired" feeling goes. You sleep better, eat better, digest your meals more easily. Your complexion is cleaner than before.

You can get Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains. Eat 3 cakes a day. Directions are on the label.

If Constipation becomes chronic, Look Out, warns hospital head

J.B.A.A. Boys Show Fine Form to Take Classics in Rowing

Famous Organization Captures Senior and Junior Events in Big Sports Event—Indian Canoe Races Attract Large Crowd to the Gorge

ON the green waters of the Gorge, where many famous races have streaked over the smooth surface making history in the art of rowing, the James Bay Athletic Association captured two of the major events by defeating their rivals, Brentwood College.

The blue boys earned two victories to hold up the reputation of the association by taking the senior and junior fours in well-fought races. Crowds thronged the course over which the races were run, and gave a hearty greeting to the winners at the finish line. J.B.A.A. seniors were well in advance of their opponents, but the juniors from Brentwood had a difficult passage and finished a considerable tance behind.

INDIAN RACES

The feature of the afternoon's regatta was the performance of the Indian canoe races and the rivalry was keen. In the first of the elevents, under forty feet, the Squamish crew had little trouble in putting the nose over the line ahead of the Malahat band. The second race was a neck-and-neck affair, with the Squamish boys leading at the end of the stretch by only one and a half feet. In the double paddle event the Malahat band won by a full length.

Results follow:

Novice fours—1, Chris Usher (s), Jim Temple (3), Bill Lemm (2), Bill Clarke (bow); 2, L. L. Leigh (s), N. Lougheed (3), B. Barrett (2), Dick Sewell (bow). Usher won by half length.

Indian canoe race, under 40 feet, eleven paddle—1, Squamish; 2, Malahat; 3, West Saanich. Squamish won by half a length.

Junior fours—1, J.B.A.A. Crew: Brian Tobin (s), J. W. Seatle (3), Dick George (2), J. Mann (bow), Vic Rawlins (cox); 2, Brentwood College: G. L. Wilson (s), J. E. Poole (3), J. E. Buck (2), R. L. Wilkins (bow) and D. Elmore (cox). J.B.A.A. won by two lengths.

Indian canoe race, double paddle—1, Malahat; 2, West Saanich; 3, Cowichan. Malahat won by a length and next two crews half a length apart.

Senior fours—1, J.B.A.A: G. Scott (s), A. Jones (3), A. Mann (2), Bob Wratten (bow) and Webster (cox); 2, Brentwood College: S. B. Fraser (s), R. F. Driscoll (3), S. Mitchell (2), C. B. Allan (bow), D. Elmore (cox). J.B.A.A. won by five and one-half lengths.

Women's fours—1, J.B.A.A. Blues: K. Miles (s), B. Adams (3), Eve Johnson (2), and Dick Sewell (bow); 2, J.B.A.A. Whites: Silas Stubbs "(s), Eve Day (3), Doris Hooper (2) and Dave Hunter (bow). Whites out of race when seat came up.

Indian canoe race, over forty feet, eleven paddles—1, Squamish; 2, West Saanich; 3, Malahat. Winners won by one foot.

140-pound doubles—1, J. Mann and A. Mann; 2, W. Stancil and M. Billingsley. J. and A. Mann won by one-half length.

PRAISE SPIRIT SHOWN IN WEST

Officials of Mutual Life Assurance Company Will Meet Agents Here Today

Expressing the opinion that the West is setting a splendid example to the East at the present time, A. E. Pequegnat, of Waterloo, assistant general manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, who is now in the city, yesterday remarked upon the optimism that he had encountered in the Prairie Provinces on his way West. This was very manifest in the Province of Alberta, he said.

The Prairies have every indication of a good crop this coming year and this is having the effect of creating a splendid feeling among the residents of the West.

Accompanying Mr. Pequegnat, are Dr. J. M. Livingstone, chief medical director of the company, and W. Carlisle, superintendent of agencies. They are here to hold a conference today with the agents of the company on Vancouver Island, under Fred McGregor, the general agent of the Mutual Life for this district. Similar conferences have been held by the head office officials on their way westward.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

The Funeral service for Miss Nellie Hunt, who passed away on Sunday, will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

B.C. Farmers and Cattlemen Get Together to Advantage

While no great profits were earned, British Columbia's initial experiment with financing range cattle over Winter by boarding them out on the lands of farmers with surplus fodder proved a decided success, it was reported this week by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The plan was conducted with the co-operation of the British Columbia Beef Cattle Growers' Association, and will be given further trials in the Winter of 1932-33.

From the cattlemen's standpoint, the plan kept underfinished animals off the market in the Fall, added an average of 175 pounds in weight to each animal, and secured a readier sale in Spring, when the Winter-fed animals were in fine condition.

UNEXPECTED MARKET

From the farmers' point of view, the boarding of the cattle gave an unexpected market for surplus hay, grain and silage, and returned a reasonable profit on the undertaking, where the farmers acted solely as feeders of the cattle, without risk of ownership.

Analysis of some 200 head of cattle put out in this way for feeding on British Columbia farms shows that the average gain per animal was 175 pounds, the average return to the feeder was $15.64 per head, and the average return to the owners of the cattle, $25.15 per head. The advantage to the public was a gain in prime beef, together with the absence of a quantity of ill-finished beef which would have gone on the market at sacrifice prices last Fall. District agriculturists supervised the feeding.

MRS. LENA CLEAR CALLED BY DEATH

Resident of Oak Bay for Thirty-Four Years Succumbs—Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Lena Clear, a resident of Victoria for more than thirty-five years and widely known in Oak Bay as the proprietor of the confectionery store opposite the Oak Bay Park, passed away on Monday evening at the Jubilee Hospital. She was born in England seventy-eight years ago.

Many times her kindness brought relief to injured athletes who, while playing in the Oak Bay Park suffered minor injuries and were taken to the store for treatment.

Besides her husband, John Clear, residing at 1179 Newport Avenue, she is survived by three brothers and three sisters in England.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where the service will be conducted by Rev. Canon Nunns. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

IS EAGER FOR EMPIRE TRADE

president of an organization established in the colony for the promotion of trade within the Empire, and this body is doing a commendable work in common with similar bodies elsewhere throughout the Commonwealth to spread the doctrine of Empire products first.

With this movement Sir William is in hearty accord. With the vast resources of the Empire and its capacity to be self contained among the scattered parts, he ventured the opinion that if it could not bring about a better condition of affairs, there was something wrong. He has no doubt of the results.

TRADE WITH CANADA

As far as Hongkong is concerned, he pointed out that it was not a great producer in itself. It was a free port and in that capacity it was a distributing point in so far as the shipping trade was concerned. In the matter of trade with Canada, His Excellency felt that there was room for increasing trade. The Canadian trade commissioner was doing good work in this respect and he could see no reason why, under the Empire trade campaign, there should not be more in wheat, fruits and various other lines imported from Canada and Australia.

This sentiment in favor of trade within the Empire would have a beneficial effect upon the carrying trade of the Empire. The British were a great trading people and understood the carrying of oceangoing traffic. The movement now on foot to extend trade among the scattered parts of the Empire should make for material restoration of the shipping industry.

SILVER QUESTION

The silver question which has its direct effect upon the financing of the colony of Hongkong was too technical a matter, Sir William said, for him to venture an opinion as to the solution. He hoped, however, that some relief would be afforded, as he had as chief administrator of the colony his own troubles in balancing a budget under the present depreciation in the value of the metal.

Capt. T. A. H. Coltman, A.D.C. to Sir William, accompanied Their Excellencies on the trip, but went on to Vancouver yesterday by the Empress liner.

A boy named William Davey, of 3191 Shelbourne Street, was struck down by an automobile driven by Miss Jean Harvey, of Cordova Bay Road, yesterday morning and taken home by Sergeant Robert S. Brown in a bruised condition.

Miss Harvey was driving south on Shelbourne, near Pearl Street, when the boy stepped off the back of a milk wagon and ran in front of her car, according to police.

The left front fender struck the boy down, causing severe bruises and lacerations. After being given first aid he was taken home, where he was attended by Dr. Thomas McPherson.

R. D. Purdy, of Calgary, general manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool, which controls the grain elevator at the Ogden Point Wharves, is in the city. He is accompanied on his visit here by J. Bennett, of Vancouver, the manager in that city of the pool's operations. They were in conference yesterday with James Burden, the local manager of the elevator here.

E. B. Ramsay, chairman of the Dominion Grain Commission, is expected in Victoria today. He is making one of his periodical inspection visits to the elevators on the Coast, it is stated.

At the present time the elevator at the Ogden Point Wharves contains 500,000 bushels, which is half its total capacity.

STEEL HEAD OPTIMISTIC FOR FUTURE

TRADE PARLEY

Trade matters affecting the Pacific were exhaustively discussed at Honolulu early in May, when the nineteenth annual convention of the National Foreign Trade Council, in co-operation with the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, met. Mr. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, headed a large party of bankers and industrialists from the Eastern United States, and presided over the deliberations. He looked for far-reaching results from the conference, all the delegates being more or less optimistic following the conclusion of the gathering.

Mr. Farrell, who was accompanied by his wife and son, James, Jr., went on to Vancouver aboard the liner. He will address the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade at a luncheon in the Mainland city today. Commenting on the ship and its appointments, Mr. Farrell said the foresight of the Canadian Pacific Steamships in placing such a magnificent vessel on the route would surely be justified by the patronage it would undoubtedly command in the future.

Personal News and Matters of Social Interest

Officers Selected by A.Y.P.A.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. held the most important meeting of the year on Monday evening, when the election of officers for the coming year took place. Miss Purdy, from Ganges, was welcomed to the meeting by the president. John Hooper was elected captain in connection with the sports day to be held by all A.Y.P.A.'s in the city on July 1 at Witty's Cove.

Reports were submitted by all the officers and conveners of committees. Favorable reports were received from the secretary, Lenora Trickett; treasurer, Kathleen Smith; publicity secretary, Helen Thomas; president, Clarenda Jeeves; and conveners for social, missionary, Columbia Coast Mission stamps, music and sick visiting. A motion was passed that a vote of thanks be extended to John Homer for his work in connection with programmes held during the year.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick gave the results of the nominating committee in selecting officers for the ensuing year. Miss Jeeves' request not to be re-elected as president, which office she has so capably fulfilled for the past three years, was received with regret. Canon Chadwick will be the patron for the A.Y.P.A. for another term, S. C. Hawkins the honorary president and Miss C. Jeeves honorary vice-president.

"YES, I AM 40 YEARS OLD!" says Irene Rich

"YES, I am 40 years old. I don't mind confessing it a bit," says Irene Rich, "and I have two grown daughters of whom I am very proud. A screen star never worries about birthdays, you know.

But, in Hollywood, they guard complexion beauty above all else. They know it says youth quicker than anything else.

How does this lovely star guard complexion beauty? Just as so many other Hollywood actresses do—686 of the 694 important ones! "I have used Lux Toilet Soap regularly for years," she says, "and am very grateful for it."

Surely you will want to try this fragrant, white soap. The caress of dollar-a-cake French soap for 10c.!

IRENE RICH and her two daughters (left to right) Frances, twenty-one years old, Jane (in background), fifteen, their mother, actually 40! (above). One of Miss Rich's recent photographs.

FOILED WIRE-TAPPER WITH SECRET METER

PORT ALBERNI, May 24.—A. W. Johnson, of this city, was yesterday charged before Magistrate Gordon Campbell with the theft of electricity from the National Utilities, Limited. The evidence showed that the defendant had inserted wires in the main line before it reached the meter so that any electricity used did not register. The company had found this out, however, and had, unknown to the defendant, placed a meter on a pole outside. In six weeks this registered 328 kilowatt hours while the house meter registered only twelve hours. He was fined $25 or one month.

The list of Canadian Catholic missionaries to Asia, Africa, Alaska and Canada's Far North totals twenty names, in which some thirty or more religious orders and congregations are represented.

J.B.A.A. Dance Great Success

The Empire Day regatta at the Gorge culminated in a most delightful dance at the J.B.A.A. clubhouse last evening, when nearly 200 dancers enjoyed an excellent programme of dance music played by a popular six-piece orchestra.

The club colors, blue and white, were used in decoration of the rooms, and the supper tables were gay with flowers in red, white and blue colors. The lady oarsmen assisted the dance committee in making arrangements for the affair, which was delightful in every way, and among the guests were members of the Brentwood College crews, who were special guests of the club for the evening.

The cups competed for in the afternoon races were presented by the club president, Mr. R. F. Taylor, the novice fours being won by the crew stroked by Chris Usher; the junior fours, won by the J.B.A.A., who also won the senior fours. The 140-pound doubles were won by the Mann brothers.

Dancing began at 9:30 o'clock and continued until a late hour, the great success of the evening being largely due to the interest and hospitality of the committee.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If May 25 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a.m. to 10:20 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

More kicks than flowers or pennies will be found in the bag which Fate has in store for you on May 25. Expenditures are liable to overbalance receipts. More than the usual amount of travel is shown, and plans for an extended trip may be successfully completed on this date.

Children born on this May 25 will show a tendency to dream rather than be practical. They will have sociable, friendly dispositions, and will make friends with both young and old. They will lack independence and will be loath to kick aside parental or other supports.

If born on May 25, your fortunes will be subject to many changes and will be affected for good or evil by the influence of someone of the opposite sex. You will probably experience both privation and affluence. Family disputes and love intrigues will cause loss and trouble.

You are broadly sympathetic and are not a mere lip-server of charity. You are extremely humane and sensitive to the suffering of man and beast, which can always be found by an understanding and tender-hearted being. You are often overcome and saddened by the futility of your efforts in these directions. Self-pity is something quite foreign to one of your nature. You are at home in the mental and artistic world.

You love change and variety, and can be relied upon in an emergency to respond to the requirements of the moment. You can be generous and also niggardly; can put on a bold front, and yet be highly nervous and timid. You must be left to your own methods if efficient work is expected from you. One of your great failings is the leaving of unfinished jobs, splendidly begun, and carelessly and indifferently left for another time or mood. At times you are both nervous and irritable, and at such times it is best to leave you alone. Eight hours or more sleep is required for one of your highly-strung temperament.

During the past year the British and Foreign Bible Society had added eleven languages to the list of those in which they have published or circulated portions of the Scriptures. The latest addition is No. 655, and it is St. Mark's Gospel in Karmajong, spoken in the Kenya district, Africa.

Dirt, the Enemy, Will Ruin Your Fur Coat!

¶ Why do moths attack fur coats? Why does the fur pelt become brittle? Why does the fur lose its sheen? Why do worn spots so suddenly appear?

¶ Dirt—is the answer. Your fur coat is a catch-all for the dust that floats in the atmosphere—for the greasy grime from automobile exhausts—for soot—for dirt from walls and dust from chairs. It forms a gummy film in the fur of your coat. You can't see it, but just rub a white linen handkerchief into your fur!

URGES PACIFISTS TO TAKE ACTION

Einstein and Others Impatient With International Disarmament Conference

GENEVA, May 24 (AP).—Prof. Albert Einstein expressed the impatience of anti-war leaders with the International Disarmament Conference by urging yesterday that pacifist peoples of the world demand direct and total disarmament within five years.

Lord Arthur Ponsonby, of Great Britain, joined the eminent German physicist in condemning to a gathering of newspapermen from all nations the current debates here of so-called experts.

They agreed with the recent statement of Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, British delegate, that disarmament never would be realized through the discussion of generals and admirals.

"There is plenty of intelligence at the arms conference, but little evidence of character," Professor Einstein said.

The famous scientist and his companion came to Geneva, they explained, because of anxiety over the prospect that the disarmament conference might fail. They said they hoped to stir the peoples of all lands to demand total disarmament within five years.

"We think we represent a very large body of impatient public opinion," Professor Einstein said.

"The methods used at Geneva would be amusing if they were not so tragic. No technical method evolved by experts can prevent war, but only the will of people not to have war."

PARACHUTE JUMPER IS SAVED BY WIRES

STRATFORD, Ont., May 24.—J. R. He lies in General Hospital suffering from shock, fractured ribs and possible internal injuries, but his condition is not considered serious.

To have held 3,000 consecutive Saturday night gospel meetings is the proud record of the Central Hall, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, where a preventive and rescue work has been carried on for more than sixty years.

A Lagoon in the Desert

THIS picture may strain your credulity, as it is rarely indeed that one sees a lake in the desert. The attractive lagoon at the foot of the historic pyramids of Giza is one of the many advantages which have accrued to Egypt as a result of the raising of the height of the Assouan dam across the Nile another twenty-nine and a half feet. The vast irrigation project will permit cultivation of 7,000,000 acres of land which once were desert.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

A Bold Rascal

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Through all of time, since days of old,
Have timid people feared the bold.
—Old Mother Nature.

Boldness has nothing to do with size. There are timid big people and bold small people. The bold are those who know no fear. If they have known it they have overcome it. They do things which others fear to do and by their boldness often get what others desire but fear to try for. So boldness, guided by good judgment, often gains its object where lack of boldness would fail.

It was dreadful news that Whitefoot the Wood Mouse had brought to Mrs. Whitefoot in the new home in the syrup can in Farmer Brown's sugar house. It was the worst news possible. Whitefoot, who had been outside the sugar house, had seen Shadow the Weasel searching through the woodpile where they formerly lived and then running over to the door of the sugar house. He was hunting Mice and Whitefoot knew it. Shadow had been driven away by the opening of the door by Farmer Brown's Boy, but Whitefoot knew that he hadn't gone far.

Mrs. Whitefoot shivered at a thought that had come to her. "Whitefoot," she whispered. "I thought it was a dreadful thing when our home was taken away from the woodpile and brought in here but it wasn't. It was the best, the very best thing that could have happened. Shadow the Weasel would have found us. Our babies would have been killed by this time. Oh, I do so hope he will not dare come in here."

"He will if he gets the chance," replied Whitefoot. "For his size I guess he is just about the boldest person in all the Great World. The worst of it is we are helpless. There isn't a thing we can do. In this new house (he meant the syrup can) we are safe from everyone but him. He can come through that doorway as easily as we can. All we can do is to wait and hope for the best. There is no other place for us to go."

"If only Farmer Brown's Boy will keep that door shut Shadow may give up and go away," said Mrs. Whitefoot. Then she shivered. "Oh, dear," she wailed in her squeaky little voice, "it is dreadful to be so helpless."

Shadow the Weasel, still in his white Winter coat with a black tip to his tail, had visited that part of the Green Forest just by chance. The instant he saw that woodpile outside the sugar house he went over to investigate it. Almost at once he got the Mouse scent. It was faint and he knew that it was some time since the ones who had left it had been there. He also knew that they were not likely to be far away. He sat up and looked across at the old sugar house.

"That is the place to look for them," thought he. "That is just the place they would go to. I will look around inside there."

So he started over to the sugar house and just as he reached the door it opened and out stepped Farmer Brown's Boy on his way for an armful of wood. Shadow dodged out of sight as only he can. He did it so quickly that Farmer Brown's Boy didn't see him at all.

"Humans! Those two-legged creatures called Humans are living there!" he snarled to himself. Shadow has a way of snarling when things are not to his liking. He snarled again when he once more approached that door only to find it closed. "Do they think they can shut me out that way?" he snarled. "I'll get in there now if only to show them that I do as I please. I'm not afraid of them and I'll show them so."

But Shadow didn't get in that night. That door wasn't opened again and there was no hole. The one under the edge of the roof which Chatterer the Red Squirrel had used to get out and Whitefoot has used to get in had been blocked on the inside. So Shadow curled up in a retreat of his own and slept the remainder of the night. He was wide awake at the first sounds in the sugar house the next morning, and slipping out of his hiding place crept to where he could watch the door of the sugar house.

"The first time that door is left open I will walk right in there," declared the bold rascal. And he meant it.

The next story: "The Broken Egg."

"He will if he gets the chance," replied Whitefoot

May Discontinue Nursing Service

PORT ALBERNI, May 24.—At the meeting of the City Council last evening, it was stated that the city is going to lose the services of the Victorian Order of Nurses. During the past few years a nurse of this order has been stationed here and rendered wonderful service, but, owing to matters of finance, her services will be discontinued at the end of the present month. The Red Cross Association has made every effort to raise the necessary funds to maintain this service, and, unless some unforeseen revenue is forthcoming, the city will suffer a great loss.

The council decided that at the municipal elections in January next a vote of the people will be taken to ascertain whether they are in favor of the city undertaking the financial obligations necessary to carry on this service.

PATRONAGE OF FERRIES GOOD

Boats Running Between Island and Mainland Did Well on Holiday

While Empire Day means pleasure for most people, it brings no cessation of labor to the men who navigate and work the ships plying between Island and Mainland points. Holidays always find shipping men at their posts, enabling the pleasure-seekers to travel at will and enjoy themselves. The regular ferries from Victoria, Sidney and Swartz Bay all had a goodly share of patronage yesterday, while the excursions to Seattle and through Gulf Island waters were patronized to the limit of the ships carrying excursionists.

The Princess Louise left the Belleville Street docks of the Canadian Pacific Steamships at an early hour, and the Princess Joan in the early afternoon, both returning last evening. From Vancouver, the Princess Marguerite brought more than 1,200 excursionists from the Mainland city. The ship arrived at 1 o'clock and left on the return trip at 6 o'clock.

Docking early in the morning, the Empress of Japan flew considerable bunting in honor of the day, while boats of the B.C. Coast Service, the Ss. Salvage King, the fisheries protective schooners Malaspina and Givenchy, which had arrived in port for the day and docked at the Canadian National piers, as well as other craft along the waterfront, were gay with flags, providing considerable color as well as holiday atmosphere.

REPORTED AT JUNEAU

Flying a seaplane from Seattle to Cordova, they were forced down north of here last night by bad weather.

Inbound from the United Kingdom via Panama and California ports, the Donaldson Line freighter Cortona is due at Rithet Piers some time today, according to advices received by A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated, agents for the company. The Cortona is in command of Captain G. K. Baillie, and will discharge 100 tons of general cargo here before proceeding to Mainland ports.

RAJA OF JUBBAL PASSES THROUGH

After Touring Coast Cities, His Highness Will Spend Some Time at Banff

Dressed in neat grey flannels, his dark close-cropped hair covered by a grey felt hat, His Highness Rana Bhagat Chandra Bahadur, Raja of Jubbal, might have passed for just another European businessman arriving among 410 other passengers on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan from the Far East and Honolulu yesterday, had it not been for the picturesque East Indian garb of his wife, the daughter of Sir Bhagat Singh Maharaja Coie Gondal, of Kathiaad, India.

Heavily shawled and robed in the long flowing dresses which distinguish Indian women of the higher castes, Her Highness' old-world costume offered a striking contrast to the conventional European clothes of her distinguished husband when they landed here today.

His first trip abroad in seventeen years, the raja will remain in British Columbia three or four days before visiting Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and other Coast cities. He will return to Canada in June, spending some time at Banff in the Canadian Rockies, fishing and riding, before returning to India.

Educated in England, the Raja of Jubbal is no stranger to Western ways. A keen camera fan, he intends to visit Hollywood to see how the masters of the "shutter and lens business" do it, before going home late in June.

Industrious Youth Finishes Splendid Model of Warcraft

Devoting his spare time during the past year to the construction of a model of a destroyer, Harry Barnes, of Victoria, has turned out a miniature fighting craft, which is perfectly true to scale and exhibits in the same dimensions all the equipment carried by a real ship from the wireless aerials aloft to the torpedo tubes in position on deck, and from the anchors lying in position on the bow to the staff flying the white ensign aft. All the rigging is in place as well as proportion, the running lights in the screens and the guns ready for action. All the equipment and fittings were turned from metal in tiny lathes.

The destroyer, numbered 241, is thirty-four inches long, and if placed on exhibition would create a lot of interest. It reflects great credit on the application of its builder, who is just sixteen years of age, and the son of H. T. Barnes, manager of Rithet Consolidated.

PHILADELPHIA (UP).—An old eight-foot naval cannon, believed to be a relic of the Revolutionary War, was unearthed by workmen constructing the new subway and tube under the Schuylkill River. The ancient gun was found buried forty feet beneath the mud of the river bank. The gun has a three-inch bore and had been spiked.

Empress of Japan Only 44 Minutes Behind Her Fastest Voyage From Honolulu

Capt. L. D. Douglas, recently named commander of the Ss. Empress of Japan, largest of the Canadian Pacific liners on the Pacific, succeeding Captain Samuel Robinson, O.B.E., retired, brought his 26,000-ton charge into port yesterday, within forty-four minutes of the Pacific record. In June, 1931, Captain Robinson, hero of the Yokohama earthquake in 1923, brought the big ship from Honolulu to Victoria in 4 days, 9 hours, 16 minutes, an average speed of 22.16 knots an hour. Averaging 21.96 knots, the Empress of Japan, on her voyage just concluded, made the Honolulu-Victoria run in 4 days, 10 hours.

Captain Douglas' first transpacific crossing with the Empress of Japan, since succeeding Captain Robinson, placed him within striking distance of two speed records established by his predecessor—the Honolulu-Victoria mark, now only forty-four minutes better, and the Yokohama - Honolulu run, which Captain Douglas has just made in 6 days, 11 hours and 13 minutes, as against the 6 days, 9 hours and 11 minutes established by Captain Robinson in June, 1931.

"We made no attempt to break any existing records," Captain Douglas said yesterday. "We had good weather and made good time as a result."

CANADIAN NATIONAL OFFICIAL GOING TO POSITION AT SYDNEY

VANCOUVER, May 24.—Lieutenant-Commander A. S. M. Nicholls, O.B.E., R.N.R., who for the past two years has been marine superintendent for the Canadian National Steamships, with headquarters at Vancouver, leaves on Ms. Aorangi tomorrow for Sydney, Australia, where he has been transferred by the company to fill a similar position.

At a gathering yesterday morning in the steamship offices, Colonel J. C. Brown, Pacific Coast manager for the company, presented Commander Nicholls with a traveling clock on behalf of the officers of the company. Colonel Brown referred to Commander Nicholls' long service with the company and also his work during the war, when he joined up as a lieutenant, and because of his fine record, received a series of promotions, until at the end of the war he carried the rank of lieutenant-commander.

Mrs. Nicholls and son, Dennis, will sail with Commander Nicholls tomorrow.

VANCOUVER FLYERS HOP FROM CALGARY FOR NORTHERN CITY

CALGARY, May 24 (CP).—After a two-day visit here to complete refueling preparations for their nonstop flight from Montreal to Vancouver next month, Lieut. R. H Storer and Lieut. B. R. Ronald left here for Edmonton shortly before noon today in their taper-wing Wacco, The Vancouver Sun. Skies were dull and rain threatened as the plane took off on the 200-mile jump to the Alberta capital.

The flyers are en route to Montreal in easy stages, making plans for their westward nonstop flight. They expect to make the Montreal-Vancouver hop in twenty-one hours, with refueling being done while in flight.

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation — with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Construction work on Panama Canal, Madden Dam, and various highways in Panama is maintained at a rapid pace.

MANY INTERESTS MAKE UP PARTY

British Business and Professional Men Leave Liverpool Friday of This Week

Widespread interest in the resources and commercial opportunities of British Columbia is responsible for the size and diversity of the British business and professional men's party which sails from Liverpool Friday on the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, en route to British Columbia.

The tour, under the direction of W. A. McAdam, secretary to the London office of the British Columbia Government, is gratifying as a Government experiment in making the province better known, and membership of the party has been drawn from all parts of the British Isles. One member is from South Africa.

THOSE IN PARTY

There are four engineers, a tanner from Yorkshire, a dentist from London, a clothing manufacturer from Leeds, a wholesale furniture manufacturer from Liverpool, a miller from Berkshire, a wholesale food importer from Manchester, a wholesale fruit importer from Essex, a general merchant and an insurance agent from Glasgow and a mining engineer from Johannesburg.

Two retired army officers, a retired bank manager and several ladies represent members of the party who are making the tour for the purpose of investigating residential conditions.

MANY EVENTS PLANNED

As a result of a questionnaire sent out to the members of the party, the British Columbia Government is making arrangements to extend to their friends in the province an invitation to attend whatever receptions or functions may be given by municipalities and other public bodies during the course of the trip.

Yesterday members of the tour party had an opportunity to become acquainted with each other at an Empire Day luncheon extended to them by the British Columbia Agent-General at Hotel Victoria, London.

At the Theatres

EMPIRE THEATRE Patrons of the Empire Theatre this week will be interested to learn that Miss Cicely Courtneidge, who plays the part of Miss Bourne and gives a perfect comedy performance in "The Ghost Train," is the wife of Jack Hulbert, the stage artiste and leading player in this film. They are an ideally suited married pair, as they are together in their stage and film work and interested in the same subjects. The story of "The Ghost Train," which is being presented this week, will thrill and they will amuse. What more desirable combination?

CAPITOL THEATRE Heralding a departure in the type of role she has brought to the screen is the characterization to be given by Ann Harding in "Prestige," her latest R.K.O. Pathe picture, now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Miss Harding has a role marked by intense drama rather than the brittle comedy of "Holiday," or the Barrieque wistfulness of "Devotion." "Prestige" presents her as a woman who pits herself and her standards against the insidious forces of the jungle.

DOMINION THEATRE The whole legal machinery of the British Empire was arrayed against them and yet all that mattered was the happiness of one young man of twenty. Theirs had been a love that knew no law, and yet they were married in the eyes of God. Such is the situation which A. A. Milne built up in his play, "Michael and Mary," the current attraction at the Dominion Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Tom Mix, who rides so superbly in "Destry Rides Again," at the Columbia Theatre, just as though he had never had any tussle with Old Man Peritonitis, has won competitive cowboy championships in eight different divisions. These, of course, were during his years as a cowpuncher and before he went into the movies. However, he still has the trophies.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Walter Byron, although he loves all good music, can play only one musical instrument. That is the jewsharp—and Byron says that he blows a mean harp. He has an interesting collection of mouth organs of all sorts, sizes and descriptions. However, he doesn't show his ability in "The Menace," the Columbia adaptation of the Edgar Wallace thriller, "The Feathered Serpent," directed by Roy William Neill, now at the Playhouse Theatre.

Pet Animals Paraded by Proud Juvenile Owners

Nearly 200 Entrants March to Royal Athletic Park With Much-Admired Menagerie of Household Favorites—Even Tigers Given Place

There were few pet animals left at home when the children's parade assembled at the corner of Yates and Douglas Street yesterday afternoon. Despite the rain, nearly 200 entries took up their positions on Yates Street for the march to the Royal Athletic Park, where the judging took place.

Leading the procession and playing selections while the parade assembled was the Victoria Boys' Band. There were dogs of every description. One dog entered in the parade was not much longer than twelve inches and was fully grown. It was entered in the novelty section along with the giants and midgets.

PEEK AT CROWD

Girls tucked their cats and kittens under their overcoats as the rain came down, but curiosity got the better of the pets, and they stuck their heads through the coats and peeked at the crowds that lined the route of march to the park.

One boy had a regular miniature circus cage with rabbits, guinea pigs and mice inside, and a monkey on top admiring itself in a mirror, placed on top of the cage for its amusement. Another boy took his baby sister to the parade in a pink and white decorated cart drawn by a pure white dog. This entry was admired by many.

PONIES ADMIRED

There were two pony carts and a pony entered. The carts and Shetlands were particularly admired by the young boys who had visions of all kinds of "Westerrl" adventures as they gazed longingly at these entries. The girls also admired the rider of the jet black Shetland.

Tadpole, lizard and frog hunting must have been quite the rage during the past week. There was a large number of entrants with glass jars containing fish, frogs, lizards and tadpoles.

In the novelty class there was a dog dressed as Punch, another as a mannequin and others in all kinds of array, top hats and breeches included.

DOLLS ARE GROOMED

One little girl was dressed as a nurse with buggy made in the shape of a stork, which carried a basket containing a baby doll. In the buggy was a larger doll. In the same class was a well dressed Southern nurse with her colored baby. Both these entrants obtained awards. There were several boys and girls not three years old who had kittens and rabbits.

Another entry that attracted considerable attention was a cart drawn by a large black dog. In the cart was a smaller dog holding the reins in his teeth and smoking a pipe at the same time. It had spectacles and wore a top hat, which seemed to annoy him.

TIGER AND CUBS

The prize exhibit of all, however, was the tiger and its cubs. The tiger was a stuffed animal, but its head moved on a swivel, and it was the delight of children to feel its teeth and make its head shake. This entry also was awarded a prize.

There were many other entries worthy of commendation but too numerous to mention specifically. It was a happy occasion and the children are to be commended for their courage in facing the rain. The dogs yelped, the kittens meowed and the children laughed and shouted orders, while the adults and children on the sidelines thoroughly enjoyed the whole affair.

THE JUDGING

The results of the judging by Alderman M. O. Litchfield, J. S. McMillan and Chief of Police Allen Rankin are as follows:

Best groomed and decorated dog and leader—1, Terrence Hockly; 2, Phills Adams; 3, Mildred Cummings, and special awards, Francis Buttress and Teddy Clayard.

Best groomed and decorated cat and exhibitor—1, Ada Rosewood; 2, Jessie Pollock.

Pets in cages—1, Donald Robinson; 2, Edward Dewhurst; 3, Betty Newbury and Joan Dawkins, and special award, David Franklin.

Best dressed girl with doll—1, Joan Mascall; 2, Mary Clarke; 3, Annie Kelly, and special award, Alice Kelly.

Biggest pet in parade—1, James Duncan; 2, Victor Rankin; 3, Eva Elston.

Pets other than dogs and cats—1, Joe Christian; 2, Jim Christian; 3, Catherine Stewart.

Novelty class—1, Alfred and Raymond Pengelly; 2, Claude Flower; 3, Muriel Pollock.

Best goat and lamb—1, Muriel Franklin; 2, Alfred Burgess.

As the children entered the park, bags of peanuts were distributed at the gate, and the search began for prize slips that had been placed in several of the bags.

Variety to Be Recital Feature

Many varied and beautiful dances with gorgeous costumes will be featured at the forthcoming joint recital to be given at the Shrine Auditorium, Thursday, May 26, by the Russian Ballet School and Carisima School of Spanish Dancing. Careful discrimination has been taken in selecting the music, and with such noted composers as Brahms, Chopin, Saint Saens, Kreisler and Chaminade, music lovers are assured of an enjoyable evening. No programme is complete without one of the beautiful Strauss waltzes, and the "Blue Danube" will be intrepreted by a group of eight dancers.

SALE OF BONDS IS MAINTAINED

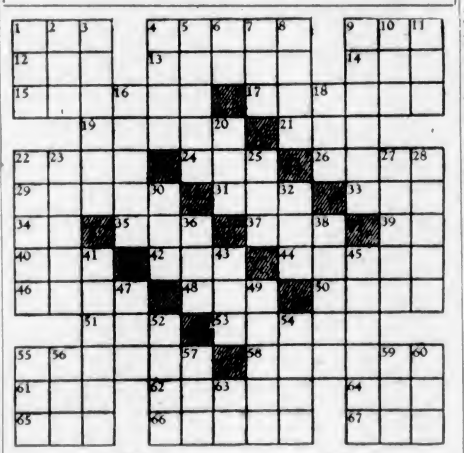

Campaign to Be Renewed With Vigor Following the Holiday Session

Despite the fact that Monday was a semi-official holiday, demand for the city's $200,000 refunding issue bonds was well sustained, and today the campaign for the marketing of these bonds over the treasury department counter will proceed with renewed vigor.

It is fully expected the sale will pass the century mark before the end of the week, when business houses and merchants will be asked to join in the subscription of the final $100,000.

Edwin C. Smith, city treasurer, said housewives continued to be the heaviest investors in city bonds. "They seem to appreciate to the fullest extent the advantageous investment that is being offered the public by the city. Six per cent interest on idle funds is not an opportunity that is frequently afforded the investor and it is because of this attraction that the bonds are selling so well," he declared.

TWO THOUSAND ATTEND FROLIC

Miss Mabel Wells Wins the Beauty Contest at Celebration Fete Here

Mabel Wells was selected from a field of thirty contestants as "Miss Vancouver Island" in the bathing beauty parade at the Crystal Garden last night, where a dance and frolic were held in connection with the May 24 celebration programme.

She was presented with a large silver trophy by Mayor David Leeming and received a cash prize of $40. Miss Barbara Pollard was second; Miss Christine Lundy, third, and Miss Bertha Ridland, fourth.

MEN'S CONTEST

In the men's physical culture contest, Leslie Robinson was selected winner out of a field of sixteen contestants. He also received a silver trophy and cash prize.

At the dancing competition held in the south ballroom, Miss Lilian Leask and A. E. Dunnett were chosen as winners from a large number of entries.

The judging throughout was most impartial and the decisions were received with applause by the audience that numbered nearly 2,000.

SWIMMING EVENTS

A team of Crystal Garden swimmers gave an exhibition of diving and swimming from 8 o'clock until 9 o'clock, when the beauty parade commenced. A comedy team did a number of stunts, which caused considerable merriment. The usual slippery pole event also created much fun.

There was dancing in both ballrooms continuously throughout the evening.

VICTORIA UNIT WINS CONTEST

"A" Company, 11th Machine Gun Battalion, Awarded Competitive Shoot Shield

Repeating their success of the past three years, members of "A" Company, of Victoria, of the 11th Machine Gun Battalion, yesterday afternoon captured the Victoria Day Celebration Shield, in the annual machine gun competition staged at Macauley Point. The Underwood Cup, awarded in a special competition between "A" and "B" Companies, of Victoria and Vancouver, respectively, was won by the Vancouver unit.

A large gathering of Victorians witnessed the contest, which proved most successful.

The units competing in the event were: The Victoria and Vancouver companies, the 1st British Columbia Regiment, of Vancouver, and the New Westminster Regiment.

HAVE EASY VICTORY

Under the command of Major W. A. R. Hadley, "A" Company won an easy victory in the shoot for the shield. The Vancouver company of the battalion was second. In winning the Underwood Cup, the Vancouver company takes the trophy from the local unit, which was successful in both competitions last year. "B" Company was commanded by Capt. R. H. Linley.

Following the shoot, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown presented the trophies to the commanding officers of the respective units, congratulating them on the excellent performances.

The brigadier also presented the long-service medal to Major F. Leighton, of Vancouver, second in command of the 11th Battalion.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDS EMPIRE DAY RACING

Leighton's Eleven Wins Test Cricket Encounter Easily

Defeats Billings' Side by 208 Runs in Trial Match —Sparks Bats Well for Winners— Large Crowd Attends

Despite the fact that the result of the trial test match was one-sided, Leighton's XI defeating Billings' XI by 208 runs, some good cricket was enjoyed, by a large crowd of spectators at Beacon Hill Park ground yesterday. Although marred by rain, which drove the players to shelter shortly before noon, the match produced some good batting and bowling, and the fielding of both sides was noticeably keen.

Sparks and Reg Wenman opened for Leighton's XI against the bowling of Ball and Pendray, and put on 48 for the first wicket, Wenman failing to Wilkinson after scoring 23. Sparks went on to make 50, giving only one difficult chance when he had scored 42. Two wickets fell fairly rapidly, and then Mowbray joined Sparks and the two added 51 for the fourth wicket. After Mowbray left, Sparks quickly followed, Ball holding a difficult catch off his own bowling. Peberdy and Hansen both batted well, scoring 32 and 48 respectively, and Ryall made 27 in nice fashion. Ryall was one of the most stylish batsmen and had a powerful drive.

BILLINGS BOWLS WELL

Ball and Pendray bowled steadily without much luck, the former finding his slow ones not treated with much respect. Billings was the most successful bowler, taking four for 61. Gibbons did not have much chance to show what he could do, but took one wicket for 10 runs. Wilkinson was making the ball turn, but bowled too many short ones on the leg.

Gibbons and Meredith were the only two men to reach double figures for Billings' XI, both scoring 12, the latter being not out at the close of play. Darcus and Leighton opened the bowling with great success. Both were keeping a steady length and making the ball turn sharply. They could have been kept on much longer, if necessary, but Leighton gave all his bowlers a chance, and Darcus, Leighton, Quainton, Hanson and Ryall all captured two wickets apiece.

The fielding of both sides was good. Peberdy kept wicket brilliantly for Leighton's XI, while Pite and Kinch both took a turn behind the stumps for Billings' XI.

While it is expected that the majority of the fifteen to oppose the Australians on June 18 and 20 will be picked from these two teams, there are still three more weeks before those dates, and players will be selected on their current form in club and friendly games.

Seattle Flash Wins From Ohio Grappler in Three Rounds

BROOKS AND MASON WRESTLE TO DRAW

Displaying speed which completely baffled his opponent, Des Anderson, Seattle, won a popular verdict over Ray Ryan, Ohio, in the third round of their scheduled five ten-minute-round bout at the Royal Athletic Park last night. In the semi-windup, "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria, and Charlie Mason, Portland, wrestled five ten-minute rounds to a draw, while in the preliminary, Baptiste Thomas, Sidney, and Charlie Atone, Squamish "Reserve, also failed to come to a decision in their bout for the British Columbia Indian light-heavyweight championship.

From the opening minutes of the first round, it was evident that Anderson's speed was to be a stumbling block for Ryan. When about six minutes of the round had gone, Anderson commenced giving his opponent a series of shoulder butts which nearly knocked him out. When Ryan was barely able to offer further opposition, the Seattle flash obtained a fall with a body press.

The second round opened with Ryan wrestling more defensively and warding off Anderson's efforts to secure his arm to butt him. Half way through the third stanza, Ryan picked up Anderson and threw him with a body slam and was successful in getting the second fall of the bout.

During the fourth, Ryan was again prepared to give Anderson a body slam, when the Seattle boy overbalanced his opponent and felled him backwards to get a fall with a body press. Also, during the bout, both grapplers fell from the ring and commenced fighting in the crowd. At the end of the bout, it was necessary for the police to step in to separate them.

Brooks was handicapped in his bout by his injured leg, but despite this, put up plenty of opposition against Mason, both wrestlers winning favor with the crowd.

NAMESAKE WINS RACE IN ENGLAND

Lady Houstan Names Horse After Canadian Premier—Proves Good Runner

OTTAWA, May 24 (CP).—Richard Bedford Bennett has won one of the feature races of the English flat season. In case the Canadian Prime Minister may be coupled with Lord Rosebery as one of the sporting Premiers of the British Empire, it should be explained that the race was won by a namesake of his and not by a horse owned by him.

And thereby hangs a tale. Many months ago, the Prime Minister received a cable from Lady Houston, one of the richest women in Great Britain and the backer of the last Schneider Cup races. It sought permission to name a horse after him.

Mr. Bennett was agreeable—providing the horse was a "good horse."

Another cablegram arrived recently. It was from Lady Houston also. It congratulated the Prime Minister upon lending his name to the winner of the race. His namesake had won a driving finish over a large field. And it explained that a great ovation from the crowd greeted the winner as he crossed the line. Mr. Bennett was very happy. Apparently the horse was a "good horse."

The Prime Minister told the story at a dinner given by Col. Hanford McNider, United States Minister to Canada, to the members of the parliamentary press gallery

CHECKER TOURNAMENT STAGED AT CITY PARK

Athletes of the more subtle type contested for honors yesterday at Beacon Hill Park in one of the most gigantic outdoor checker competitions ever held here. The entertainment was one of the Empire Day sporting events and lasted from early morning until late in the afternoon. In the final issue, H. Weatherall downed J. Pereder to win the title in two straight games.

Bowcroft Repeats In Taking Feature Event at Colwood

George Slater's Ace Captures Colwood Handicap —Lady Goldstream Cops United Distillers Trophy—Kischief Macher Returns Highest Straight Price of Day

With the second largest crowd in the history of the track on hand, Empire Day's racing card at Colwood track proved an outstanding success, and for the second straight day prices were good. Close to 4,000 were in the stands of the popular mile enclosure and betting was heavy in every race. Included in the large throng were many visitors from the American side.

The favorite, Bowcroft, came back to repeat his stirring victory of last Saturday to cop the feature race of the day in easy fashion, despite his heavy impost. Red Mountain was second and Pusko third. The other main event went to A. E. Smith's Lady Goldstream, with Trossachs second and Princess Sally third. Mrs. McLennan, of Vancouver, presented the handsome United Distillers' silver trophy to A. E. Smith and placed a horseshoe bouquet around the neck of Lady Goldstream.

KISCHEF MACHER HIGH

Prices yesterday were good, with Kischef Macher returning the longest in the first race, $20.25. Sporting Vein rewarded the next best odds in capturing the sixth race to pay off $14.15 for a $2 nose ticket. The daily double, My Posta onto Neroll, was worth $12.85.

Bowcroft showed his class in capturing the feature race. The George Slater entry, carrying 117 pounds in a field of five, won easily. Red Mountain showed speed and was always well up. Pusko closed with a burst of speed to take the show berth.

Kischef Macher had the speed of his field in the opening gallop and won by a length. Paved Way was always well up in the running and finished a good second. Wiliup Blossom took the show berth.

The favorite, My Posta, galloped home an easy winner in the second event and won by a length and a half. Gaberdine was second and Pelaika third.

The third race provided a thrilling finish, with the old favorite Neroll getting a head decision over Sixpence in a driving finish. Miss Ogden was third.

GOMEZ TURNS IN SEVENTH VICTORY OF SEASON

Turns Back A's in Brilliant Display; Ruth Smashes 11th

Youthful New York Yankee Hurler Allows Heavy-Hitting Mackmen Three Hits—Pirates Beat Cincinnati in Twelfth—Phillies Hit Hard Against Giants—Braves Go Under

NEW YORK, May 24.—Vernon Gomez, pitching for the Yankees, turned in his best job of the season today to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-1, for his third triumph over the 1931 American League champions and his seventh in eight starts.

Gomez allowed only three hits and one unearned run in a brilliant mound duel with Rube Walberg and struck out thirteen rivals.

Walberg did well enough in the eight innings he hurled, allowing the Yankees only four hits. But the first of these blows was Babe Ruth's eleventh home run of the season, which came in the first inning and was just about enough to win the ball game.

Sox Beat Indians

CHICAGO, May 24.—Wes Ferrell was knocked from the mound, and his relief hurler, Sarge Connally, treated rudely as the White Sox won their fourth straight game today, defeating Cleveland, 11-7. After Vic Frasier faltered in the fourth inning, Tommy Thomas came in and received credit for the victory.

Cleveland piled up a 6-to-1 lead, their first run being Perrell's homer. But in the fourth Bob Seeds hit a home run that started up the Sox slugging. Six hits in the fifth inning off the Indian ace knocked out of the game and tied the score. Five more runs were added by the Hose in the seventh.

Recruit Wins

DETROIT, May 24.—Although he wobbled precariously in the eighth inning and had to be relieved, Izzy Goldstein, recruit pitcher for the Detroit Tigers got credit for a 6-to-5 victory over the St. Louis Browns today. Whitlow Wyatt, called to Goldstein's rescue, stopped the Browns' rally by fanning Burns and Campbell.

The Giants hit Jim Elliott hard in the early running. Mel Ott getting two homers and Ethan Allen one, but he lasted until the seventh. Less Mallon and Don Hurst each got four hits for the Phillies, while Chuck Klein hit his eighth homer of the season and a triple.

Youngster Stars

BOSTON, May 24.—Van Mungo, Brooklyn's twenty-year-old fast ball right hander, and Hack Wilson, who is somewhere near twice his age, were a bit too much for the Braves today and the Dodgers won the second game of the series, 6 to 5.

Mungo held Boston to seven hits, three in the eighth inning, while Wilson hit his fourth home run of the season with two on base in the first.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT - - - - - - - By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

A Trivial Cause and a Tremendous Effect—My recent trip to Manchuria followed the Japanese invasion and the establishment of the puppet government headed by the former Boy-Emperor of China. The immediate pretext for the Japanese military steps was a slightly damaged end of a rail, a broken pair of connecting fishplates, and a railroad tie, caused by an explosion on the South Manchurian Railway, near Mukden, September 18, 1931. This trivial damage was sufficient, however, to cause Japan to wage war against three provinces of China and to bombard one of the world's greatest cities.

My drawing was made when I visited the scene of the explosion and viewed the pile of evidence in April of this year.

The Sentence of Chinese "Bings"—An oft-heard remark is that it is difficult to see how one Chinese can understand another. As a matter of fact, they seldom are understood even by their own neighbors. But the reasons are many, and the peculiarities of their language could never be catalogued.

While I was lunching with Mr. Peck, Vice-Consul of the U.S.A. in Nanking, China, who has been a student of the language since childhood, he told me of the six "bings" that make a sentence, at the same time explaining that the intonation given to each word gives it an entirely different meaning. This same rule applies to countless other Chinese words, but few of them to such a great extent.

My Theories on Golf

Explosion Shots Safest Recovery Method From Bunker.

By BOBBY JONES

Unfortunately in golf we must take the bad with the good, at least so much of it as we are unable to avoid. So in addition to learning how to drive straight and far and approach accurately, we must also discover the means of recovering from trouble when we have encountered it. No matter to what degree of excellence a player may aspire, he can never hope to strike every shot flawlessly. Mistakes must be made and bunkers must be visited. The recovery play is as much a part of the game as the drive from the tee.

To begin with, the inexpert player should be modest in his expectations. Sand in any condition furnishes a treacherous lie for a golf ball, and though at times it may appear smooth and innocent enough, the slightest misplay may cause the next shot to be played from a heel mark as deep as a Derby hat. Let the beginner adopt a conservative viewpoint. Let him begin at the beginning and learn first merely to get out before he concerns himself with any effort to regain the stroke he has already lost.

CONSERVATIVE SHOT BEST

This attitude of conservatism always pays. Even after some skill has been acquired in sizing up a shot to be played from a bunker, one's first thought should be of escaping without further loss. Only in rare instances does even the expert take a chance. He first appraises the risk—deciding upon the stroke which will be safest. When that has been determined, the possibility of getting close enough to go down in one more can be considered.

The safest and surest method of getting out of any bunker, no matter what the lie of the ball, is without doubt an explosion shot; and to those who have only a little skill I should recommend that it be used exclusively. Even this shot can result disastrously if not played correctly, but it has two outstanding virtues—it is certain to get the ball into the air, and it affords the greatest possible margin for error, where other shots which might be attempted afford no margin at all.

The accompanying photograph illustrates several things of importance in playing an explosion shot. Unless the lie of the ball be such that an unusually vicious blow is required, it is not necessary to spread the feet any farther than would be done in playing a pitch of ordinary length. Because the shot is termed explosion does not mean that it must always be accompanied by a vertiable blast of sand. Indeed, the shot invariably fails when the player, seemingly intent upon moving the bunker as well as the ball, dashes his club into the sand behind the ball and lets it go at that. The stroke should be long—never short and hurried—and the blow must go through the sand and through the ball. The action of the hands and wrists should be just as free as in any other stroke, and the backswing should be just as leisurely.

A most important point is the angle of the clubface shown clearly in this photograph. To begin with the club used should always be a niblic with plenty of loft, and even this should be laid well back. The increased loft thus obtained provides the greatest possible margin for success. If a fair amount of sand be taken, there is little likelihood of sending the ball far past the hole, and at the same time the player feels confidence to hit hard enough to be certain of getting out of the bunker.

Bobby Jones' stance for the ordinary explosion shot.

NINE ARE INJURED BY FURNACE EXPLOSION IN NEW SCHOOL

PLYMOUTH, Eng., May 24 (CP).—Six hours after the Duke and Duchess of York had formally opened the North Prospect Schools here today a furnace explosion wrecked a classroom and sent nine persons, three of them children, to hospital.

After the Duke and Duchess left, the building was thrown open to inspection by the public. In one crowded classroom the door of a furnace flew off with a blinding flash. The room was filled instantly with smoke and all the windows were shattered.

EX-CHAMPION DEFEATED IN BRITISH GOLF

Roger Wethered Downed in Second Round of Amateur Championship

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 24 (AP).—British golfers headed the march toward the British amateur golf championship today as four more entrants from the United States fell by the wayside.

A little-known Irish golfer, M. Crowley, bobbed up to upste Leonard Martin's first-round triumph, in which the New York Metropolitan champion defeated Eric Martin Smith, of London, the defending champion.

Crowley today cut short Martin's aspirations with a two-up victory.

Roger Wethered, former British amateur champion, suffered elimination in today's second round at the hands of Robert Sweeney, an American attending Oxford.

Edward R. Tipple turned back Douglas Grant, former California champion, 2 and 1; E. L. H. Turner, of Luffenhan Heath, defeated Ross Thompson, Uniontown, Pa., 4 and 2; and S. Forsyth, of Edinburgh, eliminated Joshua Crane, Boston veteran, 2 up.

The only United States entrants remaining are Dave Martin, amateur champion of California, and the two Sweeney brothers, Robert and Charles.

Martin, playing a first round match today held over from the opening day by darkness, defeated L. G. Crawley, English champion in 1931, by 1 up after a dingdong match. Martin had to sink a twenty-one-foot putt on the final green to win.

Charles Sweeney also won a delayed first round match from E. B. Elpping, 1931 Irish champion, 4 and 3, while Robert defeated Wethered.

ISLAND XI BEATEN BY VANCOUVER

School Cricket Team Loses by Two Wickets to Mainlanders

VANCOUVER, May 24.—Failing to maintain a twelve-run advantage secured on the first innings, Victoria Juniors were defeated by Vancouver Juniors in the annual cricket match at Brockton Point here, today, by two wickets in a two-innings game. The Victorians batted first and made a promising start by scoring 60 with only two men out, but the remaining players failed to do anything of note and the innings closed for 117, Poyntz being top score with 33 with Nation getting 23.

Vancouver boys seemed unable to do anything with the bowling of Alexander and Allen, and half the team was out for 57. Ferguson, however, came through with a valuable score of 35, and the local team closed with 105, twelve runs in arrears. Going in a second time, Victoria fell down badly, and were all out for 74, Smith being hop man with 25. Vancouver had eighty minutes to get the necessary 87 runs to win, which they obtained with the loss of eight wickets.

Alexander was the star bowler for Victoria, getting eleven wickets for 59 runs in the two innings. Robin Johnson, captain of the local boys, secured seven wickets for 17 in the second innings, and by his forceful batting during which he scored 25, was largely responsible for the win of Vancouver.

Stocks Decline With Selling at New York Mart

NEW YORK, May 24.—Stocks wilted today under weight of larger offerings, which found buyers still willing to await lower prices. Volume was nearly double yesterday's, but that meant a turnover of only 981,997 shares and was hardly imposing enough even to suggest imminence of what Wall Street calls a selling climax.

Consolidated Gas, American Waterworks, Southern California Edison, and North American lost 1 to 2 1-2 net.

In the foods, National Dairy, Borden, Corn Products, Jewel Tea, United Biscuit, Hershey, General Foods and National Biscuit sagged 1 to 3. Loose Wiles rallied. American Tobacco "B" and Liggett & Myers "B" weakened rather sharply, while Reynolds "B," trading actively, lost 1-2 point.

Rails seemed discouraged, not only by the course of loadings against seasonal trends, but also by a financial news ticker estimate of $2,500,000 April deficit for New York Central. Postponement of action of New Haven's preferred dividend was not unexpected, although some brokers had been looking for an omission. The stock broke 2 1-4 to 14 3-4. Santa Fe preferred sagged nearly 2 and the common 1 5-8. New York Central was down 7-8 net to 10 5-8. Union Pacific 1 3-4 and Norfolk & Western 5 1-2 to 70.

Although bond prices sagged moderately, with a number of railroad liens going to record low prices, the market as a whole showed a more cheerful undertone than yesterday. Transactions totaled $10,699,000.

Sharp declines in the rails were confined mainly to the second-grade bonds.

Government bonds declined moderately with the exception of the Liberty 3 1-2's and the Treasury 3 3-8's, which were higher.

Foreign Government issues, with the exception of Belgian, French and British, were generally lower. Although announcement was made that full interest requirements for June 1 payment had been arranged on the German consolidated loan, most German issues reacted.

Kreuger & Toll File Bankruptcy

STOCKHOLM, May 24.—Kreuger & Toll, the parent company of the vast interests which were headed by the late Ivan Kreuger, filed a petition in bankruptcy today and applied for annulment of the provisional moratorium granted to it by the Swedish Government.

This action followed the adoption by Parliament of a bill amending the bankruptcy law. The purpose of the amendment was to facilitate liquidation of Kreuger & Toll and to give creditors of the company more protection than was provided under the old bankruptcy law.

A cantankerous old gentleman, who had had a light meal in a cafe, glanced at his bill, which read: "Omelete, 1s; tea, 3d; total, 1s 3d." "Take that back," he said to the waiter, "and tell the proprietor to write 'omelette' with two t's!" "Right, sir," said the waiter. A few minutes later the bill was brought back. THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY THAT MEETS ALL THE TRAINS

OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG

We have an inquiry from a reader as to the origin of that well-known phrase, "Our country, right or wrong."

The phrase received considerable publicity, so to speak, during the last war.

In almost every discussion of important questions in our relations with the warring nations, always present among the pros and cons, was the righteous sounding remark, "Our country, right or wrong."

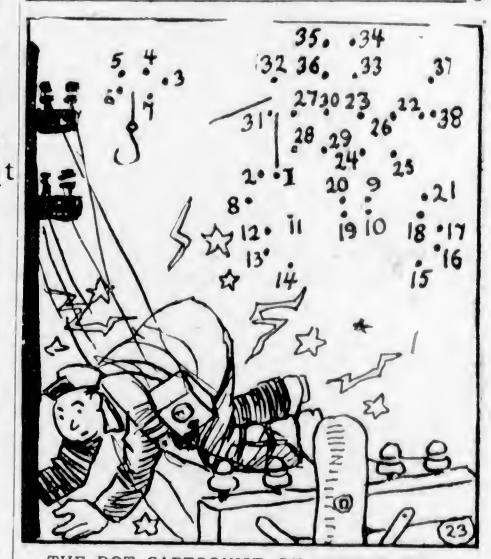

The saying had its origin in April, 1816, in Stephen Decatur's toast given at Norfolk. Its author lived only four years after that date, and probably never guessed that these words of his would be as much alive as they are in our speech today, so many years after his death.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

SHUTTING OUT YOUR PARTNER

Recently in England there was played a match of one hundred boards at duplicate, between teams representing the North of England and the South of England. Playing for the North of England were Captain Ewart Kempson, Mr. Troldahl, Mr. Fox, Mr. Summerfield and Mr. Wraith (reserve), while the South of England was represented by Colonel Walter Butler, Mrs. Gordon Evers, Captain Lindsay Mundy, Major Buckley and Mr. Mathieson (reserve).

The South of England team used what they termed "common sense" bidding, which is similar in its precepts to the more archaic forms of contract bidding in America. The North of England players used the approach-forcing system as well as they knew it. Obviously, however, they were not acquainted with its finer points. Such matches as these are a splendid thing for bridge, regardless of the system used by the players—or whether they use any system at all—because the hands they play are preserved with the bidding and results, and thus furnish splendid laboratory tests of the individual applied to the distribution of the cards around the table.

Hand No. 56 of this match demonstrated clearly the fault, common to many American players as well, of preventing partner from participating in the bidding. The hand was:

North—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

	♠ Q J 6 ♡ — ◇ A Q 9 8 7 5 ♣ 10 5 3 2
♠ 10 8 7 5 ♡ J 5 3 ◇ 10 3 2 ♣ A K 7	N W E S	♠ 9 3 ♡ 9 8 7 6 2 ◇ K J ♣ 9 8 6 4
	♠ A K 4 2 ♡ A K Q 10 4 ◇ 6 4 ♣ Q J

The bidding in Room No. 1 was:

(Figures after bids in the table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
		1◇ (1)	Pass
4♡ (2)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1. The hand is too weak to bid. Basis bidding minimums should not be disturbed.

2. The South of England players have no forcing takeout available. Any other bid than a direct game bid risks the danger of a pass. The effect of such bidding, of course, is to keep the partner in the dark, while the correct basic principle of bidding is to give your partner as much information as possible, while conveying as little as you can to your opponents. When the bidding is over, North knows practically nothing of the general makeup of the South hand. The picture South has painted is entirely inaccurate.

More accurate bidding of this hand would be:

South	West	North	East
		Pass	Pass
1♡	Pass	2◇	Pass
2♠	Pass	3♠	Pass
3NT	Pass	Pass	Pass
		or 4♠

The decision as to whether the hand should be played in no trump or spades is very close. Either contract can be made, but, in any event, accurate scientific bidding would have pointed out to the North and South partners the dangers of the partnership being wrecked on the reefs of distribution. The incorrect bidding concealed these dangers until too late.

Played in four hearts, one of the players made nine tricks, while the other, adopting a different line of play, made eight. Thus both players failed to use the favors of high cards and distribution to bid the game that was makable, but preferred an attempt at an impossible contract.

TODAY'S POINTER

The object of constructive bidding at the contract table is to permit the exchange of information at the lower stages, in order to determine the correct eventual contract and how high the bidding may safely be carried. Pre-emptive bids, which shut out the partner, should not ordinarily be made on the hands which offer a choice of the safe contract.

TOMORROW'S HAND

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ J 8 5 ♡ K 3 2 ◇ A K Q 4 ♣ A 4 3
♠ 7 6 4 ♡ Q J 10 9 ◇ 6 4 2 ♣ 10 9 7	N W E S	♠ 9 2 ♡ A 7 6 ◇ J 10 9 8 ♣ K J 6 5
	♠ A K Q 10 2 ♡ 8 5 4 ◇ 7 5 ♣ Q 8 2

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

CHAPTER XXIX

Sheila's job was not much of a job, to be sure, nor was she to be needed until May first. But it was near; it was in the department store over under the elevated road, five blocks away, and she could walk to and fro, so that the fifteen a week was almost pure gain. Sheila was to sit near the main entrance in a sort of little pulpit, and tell arriving customers where everything in the store was to be found. A small, heavy brass triangle would stand near her hand, and printed on it would be "Miss Carscadden had been chosen because of her exceptional courtesy and efficiency. It will give her real pleasure to help you."

"The place is full of that sort of bunk, but who cares? I don't care what they think about me," Sheila had said, indulgently, upon reporting this fact. "I'm reformed, anyway," she had added. "I'm all for citizenship and helpful house spirit—I'm going in for character building, clean finger nails, and a low, rich voice.

"The pip-squeak who hires and fires," Sheila had further volunteered, on the particular Saturday morning when she had washed her hair, "asked me what my real reason for coming into Bibberly's was, and if I had any secret ambition. I told him that all my life long I had been studying department stores, comparing them with one another and analyzing them, and that Bibberly's had appealed to me as being the most interesting, in its house system and store spirit, that I have ever seen. I said that I thought, great as the store is, that it has a still greater future, and that I wanted to be part of it!"

Angela, half-convinced by Sheila's serious manner, regarded her sister in surprise at this revelation, but Mrs. Carscadden was not deceived.

"You never hear'rd of the place before you walked in there an' ast thim for a job!"

"He knew that," Sheila conceded. "He just wanted to know if I'd play the game his way, that was all."

"I hope you told him that the fire-engine tur'rns out ivery time ye have a bright idea!" the mother said.

"Ma—" Sheila had pleaded, and it was then that she had added, while she spread and tossed her blazing hair, "I never told you and Angela what really happened, Ma."

"An' God preserve me that you iver wud!" her mother said simply. "There's niver a breath of blame cud be said against ye, but we'll all be up in the Death Row itself if iver ye get another chance to do good to somebody, or get yourself out of somethin'!"

"You wrong me," Sheila said, manicuring a pretty fingernail with her scissors, and holding up her hand to study it in the light.

"I didn't wrong ye enough wit' a slipper over me knee, whin I had a chanst!" her mother responded. "An' it'll be held agin me on the Day of Judgment!"

"Ma, if they're hard on you, I'll stand up for you!" Sheila assured her warmly. Her mother, from above the cold joint of lamb she was expertly cutting up for a stew, eyed her suspiciously.

"You'll stand up for me whin?"

"On the Day of Judgment, dear!"

"I'll judgment you!" was the outraged matron's only reply.

"Now, on Palm Sunday afternoon, "Sheila continued pleasantly, "what harm did it do me to drive to a police station with Peter and Judge McCann, make a short statement, and have Judge McCann give me a dollar for my taxi home? I stayed in the taxi," Sheila added, in a reminiscent tones, "until it said thirty cents, then I gave him a ten-cent tip, jumped into the subway, and made fifty-five cents on the judge!"

"It makes me nervous to have ye talk about thim McCanns, Sheila. I'd niver know what minute ye'd be in throuble again," her mother said.

"Peter and Gertrude Keane are getting married next Fall, Ma; that's all the trouble amounted to there."

"Yes, an' what about the other poor feller?"

"You mean Frank?" Sheila asked dreamily. The name sounded like music on her lips. "I don't know—" she admitted slowly.

"Whin did ye see him?" the mother demanded suspiciously.

"Mother, I give you my word I haven't seen him since that Palm Sunday—nearly three weeks ago."

"But he writes ye?"

"I haven't had a letter from him, honestly."

"Do you write him, Sheila?"

"No, and I haven't telephoned him. Honestly, Ma."

Mrs. Carscadden was still dissatisfied.

"Yu're wastin' yure time thinkin' about him, Sheila."

Sheila fenced.

"How do you know I'm thinking about him?"

"Wit' a nice young lady like Miss Kennedy, why wud he cast his eye about for a better?"

"Why—why, indeed?" Sheila agreed mildly, clearing her throat. "An' you meanwhile breakin' yure hear'rt. I know why yu're actin' like you do!" Mrs. Carscadden, with an air of clinching the argument, said. She got up and carried her bowl and platter to the kitchen.

"Sheila Carscadden," Angela said instantly, when they were alone, "you had a wire this morning."

"I know it. But Ma only asked about letters."

"All right," Angela said, in displeasure, "if you want to lie."

"I didn't lie!"

"You practically did," Angela persisted.

Sheila's expression grew suddenly disarming and young.

"Listen, Angie. I was knocked completely in a heap when I got it. I—" she interrupted herself. "How'd you know it was from Frank McCann?" she demanded.

"I didn't read it, if that's what you mean," Angela answered. "But the way you've been acting since it came—" she explained eloquently.

"I know—" Sheila murmured, looking away.

"You've been talking character for weeks now," the younger sister pursued. "You've been horribly quiet—we've all seen it. You've jumped whenever anyone spoke to you, and you've gone off into sort of dreamy states—"

"I know," Sheila admitted again, still staring into space with tranced eyes.

"And I knew it was Frank!" Angela concluded triumphantly.

The other girl spoke slowly:

"I've known all along that it was Frank."

"And this wire—Sheila, do you think he likes you?" Angela demanded eagerly.

"Angela, I don't know. He only says, 'Coming to see you Sunday.'"

"Tomorrow?"

"I guess so."

"Is he going to marry Miss Kennedy, Sheila?"

"I don't know."

"Ma will pass out when she hears he's coming!" Angela predicted in a silence. "She has a fit if anyone even says McCann. I think she's afraid that if anything more happens we'll get bounced out of here and have to go back."

"If ever we're kicked out of this house," Sheila said, "I'll work and I'll slave, I'll wash motorcars if I have to, but somehow I'll get back here again! Other people have come up in the world, and why shouldn't we? These lower apartments rent for thirty-two fifty, well—what of it? That's no rent!"

"Oh, Sheila," Angela murmured, awed.

"Judge McCann didn't have a cent when he came to this country. He told me so. His mother brought him here when he was eight, and he and his brother Frank used to go out nights after wood."

"Sheila, what'll you do if Frank McCann is just coming down here to tell you he's going to be married?" the younger sister asked after a silence.

"I thought of that."

"But after all, why should he?" Angela asked sensibly.

"It's just one of the things he would do," Sheila mused. "Well," she added, with spirit, "he'll not see me lose my nerve!"

"But will you feel—terribly, Sheila?" Angela asked timidly, after another pause.

Sheila brought her gaze back from far spaces.

"Oh, Angela, it will be very hard," she answered, simply.

It was not fifteen minutes later that Angela called.

"Sheila!"

"Woo-hoo!" Sheila returned, from the depths of the house.

"Mr. McCann is here!" Angela shouted.

"Mr. McCann what?" (There were hairpins in Sheila's mouth).

"Mr. McCann is here."

"Yes, he is!" Sheila said in a clearer tone. "Well, amuse him until I put on some lipstick. Dance and sing to him, dear, and give him a sweet kiss!" she added. And quite audibly she went on, "Ma I'm mixed up with those McCann boys again!"

"God forbid!" Mrs. Carscadden's voice said fervently.

"I really am, Ma."

"There's worse things than death, if the truth were known," the older woman observed solemnly.

"Sheila!" Angela called sharply, "Mr. McCann really is here!"

"What!" they could hear Sheila gasp in a sharp whisper. She came to the door of the sun-porch; she saw him, tall and dark and smiling. "Well, really, Angela," she said, in the last stage of horror and exasperation. "Really!"

"Well, what else could I do?" Angela retorted, aggrieved.

"I don't know what you'll think—I never dreamed—I wish I could remember what I said—how are you?" Sheila said, looking so lovely in her confusion and pleasure and anger that Frank gave an embarrassed laugh, and stammered on his own account as he greeted her.

"You didn't say anything, except that your sister was to dance and sing for me, which she hasn't done."

Mrs. Carscadden now majestically adding herself to the group, Frank addressed himself to her in tones not quite loud enough to drown out her scathing observation to Sheila to the effect that perhaps now, she, Sheila, wouldn't feel it necessary to wake the dead when anyone called her a message.

"I did say Sunday in my wire," Frank admitted, "but today was such a heavenly day, and I was free—"

"There was nothing said to me of a telegram," Mrs. Carscadden assured him. "That's the manners of today," she continued. "They'd niver tell you annything, the lot of them. My own good mother'd niver have a dispatch—an' it was few she had, thanks be to God, for ivery last wan of them had death in the fir'rst wor'd of it—but she'd niver have one of them what the whole lot of us wouldn't run to her like a flock of bir'rds. We kep' nothin' from her, nor she from us."

"Telegram used to mean trouble, Pop says," Frank contributed cheerfully.

"Children mane throuble," Mrs. Carscadden instantly amended it. "That one, now," she went on, with a dark glance at Sheila, "she'd drag the whole family into it like a dog draggin' a tablecloth!"

"Mamma, you don't believe that," Sheila protested.

"It's up in flyin' machines, off in cars, onto roofs—she'll leap into annything!" pursued the mother.

"Sheila will," Frank said simply, looking at her.
